PREMIER OF BRITAIN IS OPTIMISTIC

Believes Present Naval Parley Will Be Followed by One Dealing With Land Forces

EMPIRE DELEGATES WANT TO SPEED UP

Next Plenary Session on Tuesday to Deal With Thorny Subject of Submarine Warships

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
(Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Feb. 5.—The Dominions want more speed in the Naval Conference. The British and Dominions delegations—all the representatives of the British Commonwealth of Nations—met this afternoon. It was the view of the British and Dominions alike that efforts to speed up should be made.

AGREE TO SPEED UP

Subsequently a meeting of the heads of all delegations agreed with this aim. The first indication of a speeding up was the announcement that the next plenary session of the conference has been summoned for next Tuesday, when Great Britain will submit proposals for the abolition of the submarine. This is an old desire with both Great Britain and the United States.

While the conference thus tackles this thorny subject, the first committee will continue to delve into the French and British compromise proposals on the question of methods of limitation of naval armaments, whether by global tonnage or by vessel categories.

PREMIER OPTIMISTIC

The conference atmosphere was enlivened today by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's expressed belief that an international disarmament conference for land as well as sea forces would be reached when the Five-Power Naval Conference has concluded and by explanations of the British naval programme reductions offered in Parliament by the First Lord of the Admiralty, Rt. Hon. A. V. Alexander.

Cabinet to Last Till Parliament Of Spain Meets

(Associated Press)

MADRID, Feb. 5.—The new Government of General Damasco Berengeur announced today that it would continue in office only such time as is necesary for the re-establishment of Parliament, which will then determine the future political programme and Government.

This leaves uncertain the time General Benegeur will remain, as it probably will require several months before he can call elections for Senators and deputies and re-establish the Cortes which was defunct during the Dictatorship.

Conference Making Trust And Good Will Among Nations of East and West

By EDWARD PRICE BELL

LONDON, Eng., Feb. 5.—Success for the Five-Power Naval Conference—treaty giving fair, if not complete, satisfaction on all points of view—will exert important and constructive international influence far beyond the scope of maritime relations. This influence, as forseen by some of the ablest observers here, will affect favorably the whole political and economic position in the Western world and also will bring Japan within the compass of its good results.

Permanent political and economic adjustments between Europe and America constitute, perhaps, the greatest current problem of civilization. There is a tendency for Europe to go one way and America another—a tendency toward a balance of power rather than a union of power. This trend, of course, arises from the conception that the interests of Europe and America are somehow divergent and unappeasable. Europe must look after Europe, and America after America. And each must be vigilant and energetic lest the other score over it in diplomatic ascendancy or economic advantage.

Consider Foreign Minister Aristide Briand's scheme for a United States of Europe. Many people, though not M. Briand himself, interpret that idea as implying opposition to or organized competition with America. Such persons appear to think that Europe will be better off according as it can beat America and that America will be the better off according as it can beat Europe.

NEW STATUS OF B.C. BODY IS APPROVED

Reorganization of Stock Breeders' Ass'n Will Be Completed in June, Convention Decides

BASIS OF CHANGE TO BE DISCUSSED

Approval to a proposal for the reorganization of the British Columbia Stock Breeders' Association, was given at the annual convention of the organization, which was held here yesterday at the Empress Hotel, and attended by representatives from all sections of the province.

As the revised constitution was not quite ready for presentation, the meeting adjourned until next June, when reorganization will be completed, and officers elected. The B. C. Stock Breeders' body will probably change its name to that of the B. C. Council of Animal Industry, and will continue to meet and act as a sort of centralizing body for the various branches of industry connected with the livestock of the farms.

A special committee composed of President Mat Hassen, of Armstrong, Mr. A. D. Paterson, of Delta, Mr. George Sangster, of Victoria, and Mrs. P. E. French, of Vernon, was appointed to meet representatives of all livestock organizations at an early date and discuss the basis of reorganization.

RESTRICTED AREA

The convention adopted a resolution, moved by Mr. George Sangster, requesting the Dominion Government to arrange for Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands to be made a tuberculosis restricted area for dairy cattle, and that the Provincial Government be asked to cooperate in securing the sanction of the Federal authorities to this undertaking. It was felt by a large number of the stockbreeders, that the establishment of Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands as an accredited cattle area would be a great boon.

Filipinos Make Demonstrations Against States

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Public demonstrations for Philippine freedom are planned in New York, Philadelphia, Seattle, Chicago, Kansas City and other major cities on Saturday, Dr. Pedro Gil, minority floor leader of the Philippine House, said today the purpose of the demonstrations was to keep Philippine independence before the public.

Other demonstrations, Dr. Gil said, also were planned for February 22, Washington's birthday.

ATTITUDE OF DILLY-DALLY IS MENACING

RUSSIAN TROOPS ARE STILL NEAR AT HAND

MUKDEN, Manchuria, Feb. 5.—If the Nanking Government shows that it knows when to cease dilly-dallying—now demanding temporary exemption from its terms, then hinting repudiation of the Khabarovsk protocol—before the Soviets grow tired of these tactics, the present crisis in the Sino-Soviet relations will pass peacefully. By that protocol, which restored the status quo ante in the Chinese Eastern Railway zone, China agreed to meet Russia in a final conference on February 25 to settle the controversy in Moscow, but Nanking has acted dilatorily and the question is whether it will know when to let up.

MAY ACCEPT SITUATION

Conservative foreign opinion here is that Nanking will recognize the necessity of accepting the situation and send a duly-accredited representative to the conference on time. A somewhat less conservative belief is that there exists more or less danger, recalling that the Chinese during the Autumn and Winter have failed to read the hand-writing on the wall. Setting up a bogus navy to face the Soviets in the Lower Sungari River and a badly equipped and drilled army on the indefensible terrain at Manchuli, they were then surprised when the Russians punished their temerity.

To some extent the present period resembles last Autumn, because the Soviet infantry, cavalry and air forces are still within striking dis-

WHEAT POOLS COMPELLED TO MAKE APPEAL

DEPRESSION MIGHT BE VERY SERIOUS

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, Feb. 5.—Shadow of falling wheat prices still hung ominously over the Winnipeg market today, undissipated by Prairie Governments' declaration of financial support for the wheat pools. Meanwhile thousands of Western farmers awaited the end of a period of drastic price reductions characterized by pool officials as unwarranted by basic supply and demand condition.

Resources of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta stood pledged as guarantees for the 15 per cent margin demanded by Canadian banks on loans to the co-operatives—but wheat values slipped downward more than a cent and a half per bushel on the cash market. No. 1 Northern was quoted at $1.20 7-8, more than four cents below last year's figure—and the world crop this year is estimated at 533,000,000 bushels less than that of 1928-29, and 132,000,00 bushels less than the five-year average from 1924 to 1928.

Already $1.40 per bushel has been paid out to members of the Prairie wheat pools and values had been generally regarded as approaching closer than ever before to the 15 per cent protective margin above loans.

INDEBTEDNESS TO BANKS

It is pointed out, however, that the $1 per bushel payment in no way can be considered the pool's indebtedness to the banks. Under the pool's financing system, bank loans are reduced automatically as sales are executed.

Had the Western Governments

U.S. RESOURCES INQUIRY PLANNED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—A favorable report on the House Bill, carrying a $50,000 appropriation authorizing President Hoover to appoint a commission of twenty-five persons to study and report on the conservation and administration of the public domain, was ordered today by the Senate public lands committee.

Terrific Seas Sweep Over Vessel and Five People Are Injured

(Associated Press)

HALIFAX, N.S., Feb. 5.—With five members of her crew and two passengers injured, the Holland-Amerika liner Veendam arrived here today, three days overdue from Rotterdam to New York, after battling one of the severest storms on record.

On January 30 the Veendam encountered a storm described by her skipper, Captain R. Braun, as a hurricane. Two hours later a wall of water, which, he said, was from ninety to one hundred feet high, swept over the vessel from stem to stern, clearing the decks of gear, fittings and lifeboats and virtually wrecking the control bridge. A hatch was battered in by the force of the water, flooding the third class quarter.

Mr. T. V. Lalemat, returning to Ladner, B.C., described a night of anxiety in the third class section after the hatch had collapsed. Sixty persons were trapped in the smoking room, he said, when ropes and gear blocked the passageway. In the dining saloon water stood four feet high, with tables and chairs afloat. Women and children shrieked in terror as passengers walked up to their knees in icy water, while the big vessel was tossed like a cork by the furious sea, Mr. Lalemat related.

Captain Braun was forced to heave the ship to, and the storm drove the craft back sixty-nine miles off her course. Officers and passengers agreed that good order prevailed throughout the storm.

SCHOLARSHIP VOTE TO BE MODEST SUM

SASKATCHEWAN MODEL UTILIZED

Members Believe Principle Should Be Extended to as Many Children as Feasible

IN committee on the bill to provide for the education of soldiers' dependent children yesterday afternoon Hon. J. Hinchliffe gave the information to the Legislature that he was asking for a modest sum this year in order to start the work. He was asking for $12,000, which it was estimated would afford the assistance provided under the bill for from seventy-five to a hundred children.

The bill, it was shown, was based largely on the Saskatchewan Act.

The Minister of Education met the members of the House with an explanation of the features of the bill and with a request that the matter be taken up carefully with the object of doing something for the families of those who had a just claim upon the country. He had gone into the subject quite fully with representative soldiers' organizations and was endeavoring to get the best possible out of the bill.

TO ALL CHILDREN

Mr. Ian Mackenzie asked that it should apply to children of soldiers who served in the South African War as well as in the Great War.

Mr. Tom Uphill supported this as a veteran of the South African War.

Hon. J. Hinchliffe said this matter had been before him. He had sympathy with broadening the working of the Act. There was a limit, he said, in connection with the assistance given. The amount the Legislature would grant for this would be limited to those where the greatest benefits would accrue.

The minister explained that it had been suggested that it should apply to returned persons who had not lived in the province before the war, but came to British Columbia after the war. He proposed to let the section stand over for further consideration, so that all aspects could be considered.

Sir H. Wood's Orchestra Plays In Music Hall

By THOMAS T. CHAMPION
(Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Feb. 5. — Sir Henry Wood, the most famous conductor of the present generation in England, has become an ordinary music hall "turn" along with his symphony orchestra. They are appearing three times a day at the Coliseum for three weeks.

The venture has already met with the warmest appreciation from the Coliseum audiences. Sir Henry provides a programme of about forty minutes at a time, which is entirely on the lines of that usually contributed by a first-class symphony orchestra.

There is not the slightest effort to "play down" to what are popularly believed to be the tastes of the average vaudeville house or music-hall audience. Some of the most classical works of Bach and Mozart, of Mendelssohn and Wagner, are given. The result shows really good music will always find an appreciative audience among the masses of the people if rendered by worthy players and under proper conditions.

Protection For Farmer Imperative

QUEBEC, Feb. 5. — Unless the farmers are guaranteed an extension of markets and especially adequate protection against the inflow of foreign foodstuffs, the programme of Hon. J. L. Perron, Minister of Agriculture, for the improvement of agriculture in this province, cannot be realized, declared Mr. Arthur Sauve, Conservative for Two Mountains, and former Opposition leader, in speaking to the Quebec Legislative Assembly yesterday.

Mr. Sauve said it was only fair to recall that Hon. J. E. Caron, when Minister of Agriculture, had realized the necessity for adequate protection against American agricultural imports, and had endeavored to get some action at Ottawa, but his efforts had been vain. Mr. Sauve said he hoped Mr. Perron would announce, in the course of the session, that he also intended to urge Ottawa to raise the duties against incoming foodstuffs.

CONSERVATIVE POLICY TO BE EMPIRE FIRST

Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin Expounds Party Platform to Members of His Organization

SAFEGUARDING TO BE PROMINENT PLANK

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 5.—The Conservative party today gathered to hear Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, its leader, expound the party policy. He did so, paying much greater attention to domestic issues and to Empire trade than to foreign problems.

And Empire trade developed into the keynote of his speech. He proposed a thorough development of Empire industries in a co-operative manner. He even foresaw such a co-operative development, bolstered by extension of the preference system, as would enable an Empire industry to carefully pick the best location in the whole Empire for its special needs, whether it was Canada, South Africa or Australia.

Mr. Baldwin did not espouse the cause of free trade within the Em-

Mr. Taft Is Now Resting Comfortably

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Former Chief Justice Taft was said tonight at 10:55 by Dr. Francis Hagner, one of his attending physicians, to be resting comfortably.

Mr. Charles P. Taft and Mr Robert A. Taft, were called today from Cincinnati, Ohio, to the bedside of their father and are expected to arrive tomorrow.

Mr. Robert A. Taft, presented the resignation of his father as Chief Justice of the United States, to President Hoover on Monday, and then left for the Ohio city. The other son has been in Cincinnati for some time.

It is understood the two sons were summoned because physicians believe the high blood pressure from which Mr. Taft is suffering, to be such that it might cause the heart to fail at any time, although on the other hand it might have no effect for quite a while.

Though the doctors today reported a slight improvement, it is known they regard his condition as serious and have but little hope for the recovery of the former President.

Six Bullets Fired At Mexican Chief Inflict Injuries

Attempted Assassination of New President Follows Directly After He Is Sworn In—Is Struck in Jaw by Bullet, Which Was Soon Extracted—Ladies With Him Also Are Wounded

Would-Be Murderer Taken By Police Out of Crowds

By JOHN LLOYD
Associated Press Correspondent.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 5.—An unsuccessful attempt was made upon the life of Pascual Ortiz Rubio, new President of Mexico, today, only two hours after he had been sworn in as Chief Executive of the Republic. The President was wounded in the jaw by one of six bullets fired by a youthful assailant who lay in wait for him at the Honor Gate of the National Palace. Rushed first to him home, and then to the Red Cross Hospital, Rushed first to his home, and then to the Red Cross Hospital,

HIT IN LEFT JAW

It was found that the bullet penetrated the left jaw and lodged in the mouth. It was readily extracted. Hospital authorities said the condition of the patient was not serious. The assailant was arrested.

Dr. Jose Puig Casaurano, head of the Mexico City Federal district, was quoted this evening as saying that the President probably would be back at his desk at the end of four days.

But Dr. Jose Perez Gil Y. Ortiz, who attended the President, said that the bullet had broken the bone of the lower jaw. The missile lodged in the opposite cheek. It was fired from a .38 calibre pistol.

Three of the other bullets fired at the Presidential automobile found marks. One grazed the face of Senora Ortiz Rubio, wife of the President; another slightly wounded Ofelia Ortega, small niece of the new Chief Executive, and the third wounded a bystander, whose identity had not been established early tonight.

CUT BY FLYING GLASS

The missiles shattered the windshield of the car in which the President and his immediate party were riding. His secretary, Hernandez Chazaro, his sister-in-law, Senora Ortega, whose daughter was wounded, and the chauffeur were all cut by flying glass but none of them was seriously hurt.

A small daughter of the President who sat in the back seat with her parents' aunt and cousin, was not hurt. The chauffeur and secretary were in the front seat of the vehicle.

The shots were fired while an immense crowd was cheering the new President, who was en route to his home after witnessing the installation of his Cabinet. This ceremony took place at the National Palace, immediately following the gala inauguration rites at the Stadium, where nearly 50,000 persons had assembled to see Senor Ortiz Rubio take the oath of office and to listen to his inaugural address.

ATTENDED CEREMONIES

From the Stadium the new President had quickly made his way to the palace. The ceremonies were comparatively brief and followed by a short Cabinet meeting. It was just 2:30 p.m. when the Presidential car

Victoria Branch of Automobile Club Desires Its Earmarking for Good Roads

REV. M. W. J. BRUCE IS CHAIRMAN

On the understanding that money derived would be devoted to road purposes, the directors of the Victoria branch of the Automobile Club of British Columbia are recommending that members support steps to be taken by the British Columbia Legislature now in session to increase the gasoline tax.

The matter was touched upon by the president, Rev. Montague Bruce, in his presidential address at the tenth annual meeting held in connection with a banquet at the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium last evening. This address was a comprehensive review of the activities of the organization, including their accomplishments in the interests of motoring generally, which, it was maintained, had been of highly satisfactory service to the members. Other speakers during the evening included Major Cuthbert Holmes, president of the Automobile Club of British Columbia; Mr. N. O. G. Crawford, president of the Vancouver Automobile Club; Mr. Despard Twigg, past president of the Victoria Club; Major A. E. Craddock, manager of the Automobile Club of British Columbia, and Mr. J. C. Campbell, Canadian National Parks representative.

Announcement of the result of the balloting for directors was an interesting detail of the meeting, the ten successful nominees being as follows: Commander V. P. Alleyne, Dr. W. Bapty, Mr. James Beatty, M.P.P., Mr. J. M. Cameron, Captain T. J. Goodlake, Mr. H. Clubb, Mr. Graham Graham, Mr. R. J. Jameson, Mr. H. J. Pendray and Mr. Despard Twigg, M.P.P.

Premier MacDonald said he hoped that on conclusion of the Naval Conference the Preparatory Commission on Disarmament of the League of Nations would meet to enable the next League Assembly to arrange for the summoning of an international disarmament conference. Mr. Alexander explained the cancellation of construction of four cruisers, four destroyers, three submarines and smaller craft, followed by a policy agreed upon five months ago.

Premier MacDonald was answering a barrage of questions in the House of Commons, pointing out that the League of Nations, and particularly its Preparatory Commission, had for a long time been giving careful consideration to the question of general disarmament, including of course land forces. His expressed belief that a general disarmament convention would be called in the future was his answer to a query whether he would consider calling a conference of the great powers with a view to reduction of military forces.

INCREASE IN GAS TAX IS COMMENDED

ready been published, are as follows: Chairman, Rev. Montague Bruce; vice-chairman, Mr. P. B. Fowler, and treasurer, Mr. A. J. Dallain.

POINTS OF REPORT

The report, after reviewing the beneficial results accruing from suggestions to the Government and civic authorities, said that the directors were willing to recommend an increase in the gasoline tax, provided the proceeds were earmarked for road purposes.

The high standard maintained by members of the club in safety regulations and avoidance of accidents formed the subject of reference and to the successful tests carried out in conjunction with the police last Summer in testing brakes was attributed the fact not only of detecting 120 cars defective out of 2,000 cars tested, but of a strong moral effect of the campaign.

Allusion was made to the effective service of the office in handling 9,004 personal calls and 2,396 telephone calls and to 5,730 pieces of mail handled, as well as 198 drivers' licences, chiefly to visitors who had not brought their cars.

STRENGTH IN UNITY

Some reasons in support of such an organization as the Automobile Club were given by the provincial president, Major Cuthbert Holmes, who parodied an old axiom into the slogan: "United we stick, divided we are stuck." The existence of such an organization had in the past proved valuable in protecting the motorist against oversight on the part of the legislators, and would continue to do so in the future.

Touching on the achievements of the provincial organization, Major Holmes noted that the board, since taking over nine or ten months ago, had succeeded in cutting down expenses. An important detail in connection with a tour of the Interior made by the president and manager last year had been the inspection of hotels, auto camps, and garages, and motorists could now rest assured that any such places displaying an automobile club sign would give good service at fair charges.

Major Holmes also emphasized the importance of the transcanada highway question which had been discussed at the meeting of the Automobile Club Association in Quebec last year. It had been noted there that a transcanada rail way had been built before a transcanada highway, a most unusual procedure as compared with the history of other countries.

"The building of a road from one end of Canada to the other is just as important to Canada today as the building of the railway was forty years ago," insisted the speaker. Seventeen roads led from various parts of British Columbia into some part of the neighboring states, yet not a single road led direct from the West to the East side of the province. The Federal Government was being urged to come to the assistance of the province in constructing this transcanada highway, and Major Holmes predicted that within the next five years the powers-that-be would make some definite recognition of the many requests which were being forwarded along these lines.

The provincial president endorsed the view of the chairman of the Victoria branch that the automobile club was a club of safe drivers.

In closing the provincial president expressed appreciation of what the Victoria organization was doing.

Mr. Crawford, chairman of the Vancouver branch, mentioned some of the problems which his organization had tackled during the year, including the questions of brake-testing and headlights, and discussion with the authorities of the new traffic by-laws. The Vancouver club appreciated the importance of the tourist as a source of revenue to the city.

Tourists last year brought over $300,000,000 in cash into Canada, between fifty and sixty million of which came to British Columbia, said Mr. Despard Twigg. It therefore behooved the people of British Columbia to give the tourist greater spending areas, to work the Government up to giving more places for the tourist to go to, and more and better roads to travel over. In this matter alone the Automobile Club had a field of vast endeavor.

"You have never yet approached the Government and asked them to open up our national parks," this speaker reminded his audience. The opening of Garibaldi, Strathcona, and other parks of the kind would make a wonderful source of revenue to the province.

INEXTINGUISHABLE ASSET

Major Craddock also emphasized the place of the tourist as a source of revenue, an "inextinguishable asset," which time did nothing to diminish. The tourist trade in British Columbia for 1929 brought in approximately 200,000 passenger cars, representing 750,000 passengers; the total spending value of the cars in connection with their operations while here, $23,000,000; and the spending value of their passengers, $9,000,000. The total revenue from tourists from all sources, steamship, airplane, motors, etc., was about $73,000,000. British Columbia, with a population less than the city of Toronto, supported 20,000 miles of touring roads. In connection with this reference Major Craddock expressed thanks to the Minister of Public Works, Hon. N. S. Lougheed, and Mr. Patrick Philip, Deputy Minister, who was present, and who had always shown great courtesy to the Automobile Club.

GOAD GOVERNMENT

The past president of the Victoria branch, Mr. Twigg, after expressing pleasure at the presence of the Vancouver branch president, Mr. Crawford, also touched briefly on the tourist aspect of the value of good roads and asked that the association do everything within its power to formulate rules and conditions which would be to the advantage of the motorist and the public generally. Referring to the work which had been done in connection with the West Coast, the Mill Bay ferry and the Malahat during the past year at a cost in the neighborhood of $150,000, Mr. Twigg expressed the view that neither the late Government nor the present Government would have pushed these undertakings except for the interest taken by the Automobile Club.

Special greetings were also expressed to Mr. David Leeming, head of the Victoria Publicity Bureau, who stated that the greatest colonizing agency which the Island possessed was the motorist and the tourist road, and to Colonel Wilby. Other guests welcomed were the City Council representatives; the Police Commissioner, Colonel J. H. McMullen, superintendent of B.C. Police; the Chief of Police, Inspector Hood, of the B.C. Police and Inspector Boulton of the city police.

Six Bullets Fired At Mexican Chief Inflict Injuries

came through the Honor Gate. The roar of shooting prompted a rush by motorcycle policemen, who seized the assailant and hurried him into the Presidential palace. The crowd surged forward, but the police held them in check.

The Presidential chauffeur, with great presence of mind, kept his car going and shot between the lines of guards, disappearing toward the Ortiz Rubio home before many of the witnesses of the near tragedy comprehended what had happened.

PRESIDENT'S INAUGURATION

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 5.—President Ortiz Rubio, of Mexico, in his inaugural speech today promised above all to work for the people, terming the workers and peasants the "hope of Mexico." He said he would endeavor to remove all boundaries between the Government and the people, seeking to establish a "Social Government" of common understanding and interest with the masses.

The address was brief, consisting of but ten typewritten pages. It set forth, in general, the lines and purposes of the new Administration, which is to fill out the four years, nine months and twenty-five days remaining unexpired of the term of President-Elect Alvaro Obregon, who was assassinated on July 17, 1928.

JUSTICE AND WELFARE

The new President said that the ideals of the revolution—justice and welfare for all—had been accepted by the nation as exemplified in his election by popular vote, adding that his Government would never lose sight of the work it had pledged to carry out. Restoration of conservative, or even moderate, men and systems he declared possible because the country was heart and soul intent on the radical work of restoring to the race its heritage. The revolution had brought its own morals, its own justice, its own policies, in short, its own conception of life, he explained, promising that his Government would be "eminently revolutionary."

Pointing out that Mexico enjoys cordial relations with the outside world and "particularly with the United States," the new President termed it an auspicious occasion for getting down to the solid work of reconstruction. In this he asked the help of all Mexicans, at home and abroad, and their cooperation with whatever means were within their power toward the progress and prosperity of the nation.

Conference Making Trust And Good Will Among Nations of East and West

It does not occur to these thinkers, seemingly, that European prosperity and American prosperity very well might be reciprocal.

FOR ECONOMIC SANITY

Those who work for the success of the naval conference work for an end of the theories of world division on competitive and possibly dangerous lines. They work for understanding and co-operation. They work for political and economic sanity. They work for such a clearance of nationalistic prejudices and industrial burdens—armament burdens particularly—as will enable the peoples to rise out of their preoccupations of war and out of poverty. This naval conference is merely an act—some might say merely a scene—in the slow unfolding of the great drama of interracial and international amalgamation.

What is the master link between Continental Europe and America? It is Great Britain and her Dominions, especially Canada. If Great Britain went with Continental Europe against America there would be peril. If Great Britain went with America against Continental Europe, there also would be peril. If Great Britain stands steadily between the two, friendly to both and determined to make both friendly to each other, then there will be an almost certain assurance of the solidarity of the Western world.

DRAW TOGETHER

Germany and France are drawing closer and closer together. Economic ties are multiplying between them. "A good Franco-German War," as an astute Frenchman said to me, "is making a good Franco-German peace." Economic ties will strengthen political ties. German and French civilizations will become like one for law, order and progressive disarmament, east and west of the Rhine. And this Franco-German rapprochement will menace nobody, oppress nobody. It will endeavor to conciliate Italy and consolidate peaceful Europe.

Japan comes within the focus of this widespread project of peace because of her loyal relationship to the Occident. She is international in her gift of national sagacity. She does not believe in national isolation. She seeks no unjust, national privilege. Implacably minded to hold her position in Manchuria, she yet does not close the economic door there. She accepts the American principle of the open door as definitely as America urges that principle. America knows it. Great Britain knows it. And neither any longer is questioning the justice of Japan's attitude to the mainland of Asia.

IS PROMOTING TRUST

So the naval conference is a much greater conference than narrow visions might apprehend. Conceivably it could fail, though it probably will not, to accommodate naval views perfectly. But it cannot fail to pour a flood of light upon those national emotions and opinions which must be understood before any sorcery of statecraft can erect a stable structure of international trust and peace. All the international conferences since the world war, by no means excepting that of Geneva in 1927, have been preparatory for what is pending now.

RUNS FIVE MILES IN FORTY-FIVE MINUTES AT 70

Not many men at 30 today, especially city men, can run five miles straight away, in any time. Yet, on September 27th, 1928, Dr. Robt. G. Jackson, at 70, did this in forty-five minutes, before 6 a.m. It's only a matter of keeping the blood normally alkaline, or non-acid, which he does by eating alkaline Roman Meal, the only alkali-forming grain food, because the only food containing flaxin. Because of a diseased heart, twenty years ago, Dr. Jackson was given only four months to live. Now he can suspend his body between two chairs, resting on heels and head, with 180 pounds on his abdomen—a great feat at any age, but at 70, marvelous! Write for free booklet, "HOW TO KEEP WELL," and other literature, to ROBT. G. JACKSON, M.D., 315 Vine Ave., Toronto 9, Ont.; or write for free sample of Roman Meal. (Advt.)

WHEAT POOLS COMPELLED TO MAKE APPEAL

not come to the aid of the co-operatives and had the market been depressed to "substantially lower levels—the pools would have been forced to liquidate a part of their holdings on markets already depressed, according to a statement by Mr. George McIvor, general sales manager of the Canadian Wheat Pool. This, he points out, would have had disastrous consequences, not only to Western farmers but to the business structure of the entire country.

"It was with a view of avoiding such a catastrophe, in the event of a further drastic break in the market, that the pools requested and received the support of the Governments of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta," Mr. McIvor explained.

The three Provincial Governments accordingly forwarded a letter to the chairman of the banks' lending committee agreeing to guarantee their respective provincial pool's share of the Canadian Pool's margin.

SCHOLARSHIP VOTE TO BE MODEST SUM

Mr. Uphill wanted the bill to apply to all.

The minister said his sympathies were in the line of broadening the application. There was no attempt being made in the bill to give scholarships to every child of every soldier. The move was to give aid to a limited number.

Mr. Mackenzie asked if the minister could suggest what was the amount to be spent at first.

EXPERIENCE ON PRAIRIES

The minister replied that Saskatchewan was spending about $100,000 a year. British Columbia was trying out the plan. He was asking for $12,000 for the first year. This might assist from seventy-five to a hundred children. All would not be $250-a-year children in the matter of assistance.

In reply to Col. C. W. Peck, V.C., the minister said that in Saskatchewan the aid was limited to children of parents who enlisted in Saskatchewan.

In reply to a question from Mr. Mackenzie as to whether there was danger of benefiting the many in favor of assisting the few, Mr. Hinchliffe said there would be every precaution taken. This aspect was before him and no action would be taken without the fullest consultation with educationists.

Mr. Mackenzie said he would oppose any interference with the policy of education of all children of the province, in favor of a selective system which might favor the few.

Dr. Wrinch saw difficulties in discriminating between those who should have help and those who should not. He hoped the minister might be able next session to come down with a plan to apply to all children.

Mr. George S. Pearson was inclined to believe in the more general education of those of the average intellect than in the higher academic education of the few selected.

The minister pointed out that provision was made in the bill for not only academic training, but training in other lines.

Mr. Hinchliffe pointed out that this was more or less experimental. He alluded to the desire to apply the widest educational facilities to all children. A start was being made under this bill for the children of those whom they had the right to honor.

Mr. Mackenzie recommended that the minister endeavor to raise the appropriation from $12,000 to an amount sufficient to pay the costs of administration.

The minister agreed to make such a move.

The committee then reported progress.

CONSERVATIVE POLICY TO BE EMPIRE FIRST

pire. He remarked: "Whether such a scheme might be guarded by one tariff, with a vast area of free trade within, I know not. These things are in the distant future. But of one thing I am sure, and that is that proceeding step by step along the course I have recommended today is the safest and surest if we wish to reach that common goal of a United Empire, which lies before all of us."

Subsequently Lord Beaverbrook presided over a special meeting later today of his Empire crusade committee. It passed a resolution expressing regret "that we cannot regard Mr. Baldwin's declaration of policy as affording adequate solution of the present industrial and agricultural problems. This committee is convinced the fundamental need of British industry is new markets and new openings for profitable employment of British capital and labor, which end can only be attained by a policy of active and vigorous development of the unlimited resources of the Empire."

Mr. Baldwin declared he stood for a free hand in the safeguarding duties on British imports, and for extension of imperial preferences. But he referred to agriculture with the remark: "I am not proposing any taxes on food, and taxes on food products from outside the Empire would be one of the chief planks in a platform of Empire Free Trade."

He emphasized that the proposed arrangements between industries should be carried out between the industries themselves: not by politicians. Conferences should be held between representatives of selected industries, like steel, cotton and wool, in an endeavor to reach agreement on the types of products which might be left to Dominion industries to exclusively manufacture for their own markets, and the types which might be left for British manufacturers to sell in the British market.

Facilities for combined research, adjustment of the safeguarding duties, extension of the mutual preferences, technical assistance from the older established British industries, financial aid—all would be expected to result from such co-operation, Mr. Baldwin added. Empire Governments should be invited to adjust their duties and preferences, Mr. Baldwin suggested. In the meantime, the British should make no further European commitments. Empire trade conferences should be held.

Mr. Baldwin concluded with the prediction the Conservatives would be returned to power within two years if they followed their policy consistently, and when they were returned to power, economy would be the watchword. Industry could stand no addition to its burdens.

SPECIAL MEETING HELD BY BOARD

Saanich Trustees Exchange Views on High School Situation—To Meet Council

To discuss various angles of the high school situation in Saanich, the board of school trustees met in special session on Tuesday evening. Nothing definite was decided on, the questions of site, size of building and type of construction being left in abeyance until such time as a joint meeting of the council and school board can be arranged.

Chairman Tomes reported on a conference held with Reeve Crouch. He was in agreement, he stated, with the reeve's views as to the location and nature of building. The necessity of having a united council behind whatever scheme was adopted was all-important, stated Chairman Tomes. Sufficient support to assure the passage of a by-law which might be submitted in March was essential.

After the members of the board had expressed their views in connection with the high school, suggesting the type of school building and site favored, the chairman was requested to arrange a round table conference with the municipal council as soon as possible.

Court of Appeal

Victoria Sittings

Rant (Respondents) vs. Brown (Appellant)—The hearing of the appeal in this case was concluded yesterday.

Respondent had sued appellant in the Victoria County Court to recover the amount of a promissory note. The trial judge found that the note was payable at a bank and on the date respondent took the note to the bank and asked the manager if appellant had made any arrangements to pay it, and was told that appellant had not made any arrangements. On the date in question appellant had no money at the bank to pay the note, and had made no arrangements for its payment. He held that there was consideration for the note. Judgment was given for the respondent.

Appellant alleged that the money advanced by respondent was paid to a company and not the appellant and the note was given by appellant to secure the advance, and there had been no consideration to appellant for the giving of the note. It was further alleged that there had been to presentation of the note.

The Court of Appeal found that the note had been duly presented and that there was consideration. The appeal was dismissed.

Mr. C. H. O'Halloran for appellant; Mr. N. W. Whittaker for respondent.

B.C. Liquor Company Limited (Appellant) vs. Consolidated Exporters Corporation Ltd. et al. (Respondents)—This was an appeal from an order made in the Supreme Court in the course of an action by appellant against respondents in which appellant claims a declaration that the assets of one or respondents is the property of appellant, and also claims damages arising out of the action of certain of the respondents in the management of certain companies which are defendants in the action.

An application had been made for an order directing the statement of claim to be struck out and the action dismissed by reason of the failure of appellant to comply with a previous order for particulars, or alternatively, for an order for the furnishing of such particulars within a time to be limited. The application was dismissed and it was ordered that certain of the defendants should make discovery only in respect of the allegations in the statement of claim, whereof appellant had furnished particulars.

Appellant appealed against that part of the order which limited the discovery to be made by respondents. Respondents contended that the order should be varied directing the delivery by appellant of further and better particulars. Appellant urged that there was a fiduciary relationship between the Consolidated Exporters Corporation and certain of the respondents and therefore it should not be compelled to give particulars of certain general allegations contained in the statement of claim until after respondents had been examined for discovery. Counsel for respondents argued that the judge had exercised his discretion in making the order and that discretion should not be interfered with unless the Court of Appeal was dissatisfied with the grounds upon which the discretion had been exercised. There was little allegation in the statement of claim to show a fiduciary relationship. A general allegation of acts over a period of years could not be made with a view to utilizing discovery in order to enable a plaintiff to prove the truth of its allegations. Such a burden should not be cast upon a litigant.

The Court of Appeal reserved judgment.

Mr. G. M. G. Sloan for appellant; Mr. E. C. Mayers, K.C. for Consolidated Exporters Corporation Limited; Mr. E. Meredith for remaining respondents.

NATIVE SON WINS HONOR

LEADING AUTHORITY ON OLD NORSE

PROF. ERIC V. GORDON

Professor Eric V. Gordon, youngest son of Mrs. J. D. Gordon, of this city, has had the distinguished honor of having conferred upon him by King Christian of Iceland and Denmark the knighthood of the Order of the Falcon. A native son of British Columbia, he was the Rhodes scholar from this province in 1915. In his position as professor at Leeds University since 1926 he has been successful in making that institution one of the principal seats of Icelandic study.

The Yorkshire Post, in commenting on the knighthood bestowed on Professor Gordon, says "he has worked untiringly to awaken interest in the Icelandic literature and language. In this respect the University of Leeds now has no rival outside Iceland, except the University of Copenhagen. This distinction was amplified recently when the University of Leeds acquired the magnificent library of Mr. Bogi Th. Melsted, the Icelandic historian, and so disputes with the British Museum the claim of possessing the best Icelandic library in Great Britain."

Professor Gordon, who as a boy is remembered by a host of Victorians, was appointed professor of English at the University of Leeds in 1926 on Professor Tolkien going to Oxford. He had first joined the university staf in 1920 as lecturer in the department of which he is now head. He ranks as one of the leading authorities on Icelandic in England and has written "An Introduction to Old Norse."

The Royal Icelandic Order of the Falcon was founded in 1918 "for the purpose of honoring those men and women, native or foreign, who are distinguished above others in contributing to the profit and honor of Iceland," as the King's proclamation expresses it. It was founded only a few months after Iceland became a free state, retaining only its king in common with Denmark as the sole remaining political bond with that country. The Order embraces four degrees, grand knight with the cross, grand knight with the star, grand knight, and knight. The cross of the knight is of gold and white enamel, worn on a ribbon of azure centre flanked by white stripes and a narrow crimson border. The falcon has been the national emblem of Iceland since 1903, when the Icelandic arms were proclaimed to be a silver falcon on a blue field.

CREAM GRADING

Authority Given to Minister of Agriculture to Appoint Officials

The bill to amend the Creameries and Dairies Regulation Act provides for the creation of a cream-grading district by the Minister of Agriculture and the appointment of competent graders to perform the duties in the district. The costs connected with the work will be borne by the creameries.

Mr. Atkinson, in moving the second reading in the House yesterday, said that it had been found in cases of competition that a premium was being paid by some creameries to secure the farmers' output, and a grading was placed on the cream in some instances that did not agree with the production.

INSURANCE MAN DIES

SEATTLE, Feb. 5.—Mr. Patrick J. O'Hara, Seattle merchant and insurance man, and one of the most active members of the Masonic organization in the State, died here today, after a prolonged illness. Mr. O'Hara was a thirty-third degree Mason and was known throughout the State in ritualistic work.

When Dr. Warren Akin Smart, of Emory University, Atlanta, began as a young Methodist pastor, he was sent to a small town church where the work was very hard and where the pastor had to do nearly everything that was done. The salary was $1,500.

When he returned from the annual conference where he was appointed to the church for the second year, Dr. Smart was escorted before the board of stewards and informed that in appreciation of his work the board had increased his salary from $1,500 to $2,000.

A pained look came across the doctor's face. "Brethern," he said, "I'm sorry you did this. I had such an awfully hard time collecting the $1,500 that I don't believe I'll ever be able to collect $2,000.

RIPPLE ROCK

No shadow of doubt exists as to what is the consensus of opinion among Victorians about the preservation of Ripple Rock in Seymour Narrows as a possible base for a pier for one of the series of railway bridges which it is ultimately hoped will connect Vancouver Island with the Mainland. It has long been a dream of the people of this section of the Dominion that terminal rail connection at some point on the Island for one or other of the transcontinental roads will be established by means of the Seymour Narrows connection. There is every reason to hope that this dream will come true, but, in order to insure its realization, Ripple Rock must not be destroyed. With its disappearance the bridge-building proposal would involve an engineering feat of a character never hitherto attempted.

The claim made that Ripple Rock is a menace to navigation will stand a good deal of investigation. The mishaps directly traceable to the rock have yet to be put before the public in chronological sequence. There have been mishaps in the vicinity of Seymour Narrows, but, so far as we have been able to ascertain, not one of them can be put down either to Ripple Rock itself or to its effect on the tides which flow through Seymour Narrows. The passage is a narrow one, as seaways go, but no proof has been adduced by shipping men, or others, that the destruction of Ripple Rock would assuage the current or make it any easier to navigate vessels through the Narrows. The fact that mishaps, because of Ripple Rock, are noteworthy by their absence is proof that what Vancouver interests describe as a menace is not a menace to navigation but because of some other reason. In Victoria the impression has got abroad, rightly or wrongly, that Vancouver interests are desirous of destroying for all time any possibility of transcontinental rail connection being established with Vancouver Island.

Ripple Rock is situated between Maud Island and Wilfred Point, some eight miles northeast of Campbell River. For the protection of mariners there is an unwatched light on Maud Island, situated twenty-seven feet above sea level and possessing an effective range of seven miles. Ripple Rock, at low tide, is covered with one and a half fathoms of water. There is a channel east of the rock 1,250 feet wide between it and Maud Island, and another channel west of the rock and between it and Vancouver Island of 1,200 feet. Throughout the remainder of Seymour Narrows there is deep water. In the east channel that flanks Ripple Rock soundings run from eleven to forty-one fathoms and in the west channel from twelve to sixty-six fathoms. The actual rock, which Vancouver interests seek to have removed, has a surface measurement with a diameter of 100 feet. This measurement was made by Commander C. H. Simpson in H.M.S. Egeria in 1900. The cubic contents of the rock and an estimate of the cost of removal are unknown. Complete removal would necessarily prove a very costly undertaking.

SAFEGUARDING THE PUBLIC

The bonding of stockbroking houses with governmental supervision over their operations are among the provisions proposed in a Bill introduced by Mr. R. H. Pooley in the Provincial Legislature. The supervision will include powers of making investigations where such are thought necessary, and, where a case is considered to be serious, a judge of the Supreme Court can enjoin a broker from operating. There are to be audits and other safeguards provided by the legislation. The Bill is, so far, only tentative; in other words, it may be amended as a result of a conference of provincial authorities to be held at Toronto on February 10. Out of that conference suggestions will arise for legislation which can be made uniform throughout the country and it is the desire of the Attorney-General of British Columbia to fall into line.

No one who has followed recent happenings will doubt the wisdom of legislation to govern the operation of stockbrokers. Those brokers who are carrying on their operations in an aboveboard manner and engaging in straightforward dealings with their clients will have nothing to fear. The legislation is simply to provide facilities for dealing with those who show any disposition to use their clients' moneys to benefit themselves. Mr. Pooley would be recreant to an obvious duty if he were not prepared to put a period to any developments which would give rise to such prosecutions as are now in progress in this country and in which stockbroking houses are involved. Those prosecutions are a reflection on business morals and those morals require the utmost governmental protection that can be given. The Legislature has a duty in safeguarding business morals. In the ultimate manner in which the present Bill is framed it should reflect the ethical standard of conduct decreed and expressed by those elected to point the moral of public guidance.

STATISTICS AND PRODUCTION

Home-made statistics provide for the people of the United States many smug reflections. They never weary of reading those compiled to show their self-importance; they never question their accuracy, no matter how far fetched they may be. For instance, Dr. Thornton Read, professor of mining at Columbia University, has prepared tables to show relative human values in production. Needless to say his own countrymen are given a place of unassailable pre-eminence. One conclusion is that a person in the United States completes one and a half times as much work as a person in Canada. There is, seemingly, no differentiation made as to classes of work or conditions under which it is done. There are simply statements made, and if Professor Read's figures are correct the marvel is that any country can hold its own in any form of production with the United States.

The claim is made that a person in the United States completes thirty times as much work as a person in China can do, or does do. There is no explanation as to whether this astounding claim is made for physical power and conscientious effort, or whether it relates only to relatively better machinery for the means of production. The statistics are obviously compiled to prove why the United States is prosperous and the advantages which its people enjoy over those of any other country. No sane man, however, will believe that in actual effort an American is thirty times as effective as a Chinaman. That is certainly not the case in comparing the two races on this continent. The whole hypothesis is built up on the assertion that with one-sixteenth of the population of the world the United States does half the world's work. There again is an assertion wholly incapable of proof, either by the avenue of statistics or in any other way. On this argument, however, is built up a blatant comparison which, with China as the unit, gives the comparative amount of work done by a person as follows: China, 1; British India, 1¼; Russia, 2½; Italy, 2¾; Japan, 3½; Poland, 6; Holland, 7; France, 8¼; Australia, 8½; Czecho-Slovakia, 9½; Germany, 12; Belgium, 16; Great Britain, 18; Canada, 20, and the United States, 30.

There is a pathetic note in the confession of Mr. J. H. Thomas, the British Minister specially appointed to solve the unemployment problem, that there is no golden remedy. That may be a euphonious way of admitting failure, but it does not explain why there should be some hundreds of thousands more unemployed now than when the Labor Government took office. The trouble is that the Labor Government is too self-centred in its schemes for alleviation. Increased doles are about the only remedy applied up to date, and then the Government wonders why the problem should increase its riveting hold on the country.

The Boston Transcript is one newspaper which does not join the pack of wolves indulging in the prolonged howl about the decadence of Great Britain. It says: "England has been in crises many times, but has always surmounted its difficulties in one way or another. The stars in their courses, seemingly, fight for her—which is but another way of saying that her people are unrivaled in the world in intelligence, in industriousness, in resource, in enterprise."

In some respects the German mentality has not changed much as a result of the Great War. This is evident by the language employed and the mental conceptions invoked by the book "All Quiet on the Western Front." Another evidence is the effort of a German professor to make a hero out of Judas Iscariot. The doctrines of Nietzsche still maintain some sway in that country.

THE TORCH

I went through Scotland when the year was new;
I passed by Atholl, and by Badenoch;
I pitched my weary tent in Kinlochewe,
Where Slioch shelters Maol's holy loch.

I worshipped Scotland at each passing shrine,
Constant my love to her inconstant face;
Yet pity curbed the pride that had been mine,
My love was old, that had been full of grace.

Gone from her eyes the gleam that lightened there,
Grey in her hair the strands that had been gold;
Tattered the trappings that had been so rare,
And on my saddened lips her breath blew cold.

I had no eyes for lovely larches green,
To unborn gold of broom I gave no heed,
I only saw grey stones at Achnasheen,
And on the hills a brown and withered weed.

I went through Scotland when the year was old,
And lo, my lady, lovely as of yore,
In radiant raiment beautiful and bold,
Opened my eyes that had been blind before.

Though larches now had lost their lively green,
And dead the gold upon the pregnant broom,
I could not see the stones at Achnasheen,
The withered weed had smothered them in bloom.

I went through Atholl, and through Badenoch,
I walked by Luichart and by Achnasheen;
And when I sighted Maol's holy loch,
I held my breath for beauty of a queen.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

The "movie" may be all very well in its place. It satisfies a great number of people thirsty for amusement and relaxation. We have, therefore, not a word to say either for or against it. The radio also may be all very well in its place. It affords us a great deal of satisfaction and a certain amount of pleasure to listen to the music which comes over it. But we cannot listen to any play which comes over it, nor to but few speeches which come over it. And even the music which comes over the radio is too often spoiled by the voice of the announcer, who persists in announcing in a far from agreeable voice while the music is being played that a certain brand of pills is a sure specific for all the ills that flesh is heir to, or that the baby will never be healthy or happy until it has been washed with a particular make of soap.

So on Tuesday evening, somewhat weary of the music of the radio and with eyes strained from reading newspapers and books, we took advantage of the courtesy of Mr. Clifford Denham and attended the Royal Victoria Theatre, where the clever company of players led by Mr. Gordon McLeod is playing for a season (we trust for a prolonged season), and returned home completely convinced that while all the other sources of amusement are all very well in their places, after all "the play is the thing." It was the thing in the days of Shakespeare, of Garrick, of Macready, of Siddons, of Booth, of Mary Anderson and Kyrle Bellew, and it will be the thing as long as human nature is what it is. The great creative artists and interpreters are all gone, but the play lives and the creative artists have never lacked, and never will lack, interpreters.

A new word has lately been added to the already extensive and comprehensive vocabulary of the English language. That is the word "mechanization." Everything that we use, almost everything that we do, nearly everything that we look at and listen to, is being mechanized. The stage has been mechanized. Music has been mechanized. Human speech has been mechanized. By mechanical contrivances everything considered necessary for our amusement and instruction is surging through the air and at our service by touching a button. But human beings cannot be brought face to face yet, and are never likely to be brought into direct personal contact, by simply touching a button. There is an appeal to the emotions which cannot be achieved by mechanics.

An English master of music lately raised and illustrated this point by declaring that the music heard over the radio was never quite the same music as that played by the orchestra, that there was a subtle but distinct difference between the music heard by the radio listener-in and the music heard by the audience in the hall where the orchestra was playing. We were sceptical upon that point until we heard the orchestra playing in the Royal Victoria Theatre. Before that orchestra had played more than a few bars of the opening number on its programme we felt and realized the difference. It was not a big orchestra, but there were capable musicians in it, and its playing added materially to the enjoyment of the audience at the evening's entertainment.

From the ever-memorable evening when we went to a theatre and saw our first theatrical performance (it was not a pantomime, but a melodrama of the most bloodcurdling type) we have gone there for the purposes of enjoyment, not for the purposes of criticism. The critic, as we know him, never attends any performance, musical or dramatic, for the purposes of enjoyment, that is unless he derives enjoyment from pulling persons and performances to pieces. In that respect we must be like Peter Pan, who never grew up. Or like a real man, who afterwards became distinguished in literature, who, when taken to his first show had but one desire in the world—that the mimic performance might never end, but go on forever.

For, after all, that is the true test of the merits of a play and the histrionic qualities of the players. As we grow older in years, that test cannot be applied except in a modified degree. If you go to a show and the time passes quickly, you are enjoying yourself. If time lags in his steps and you are bored, it is time to go home—and so to bed. We did not go to bed on Tuesday night until long after the habitual hour, and the audience which kept us company on that evening did not seem to be in any particular hurry to go home and so to bed either, perchance to dream, mayhap to sleep. The audience was not so large as it should have been, but time and fullness of knowledge may amend that one defect.

Jots From Geography

LORELIE Rock on the Rhine River, of Germany, is a miniature Rock of Gibraltar, and formerly was a serious menace to the shipping on the river. The rock is principally famed for its echo, and has been personified by poets as a siren who lured sailors to destruction by the music of her voice. This is merely an idealization of the rock and its echo.

Standardization Of Dresses New Soviet Measure

MOSCOW, Feb. 5.—With an eye to establishing complete equality among its citizenry and of hastening the dawn of pure Communism, the Soviet Government is now considering adoption of standardized low-priced dresses and shoes for the masses as well as a uniform type of houses, furniture, beds and even standard forms of food.

Under this system all members of Russian society will be reduced to a common level, and there will be no ground for anyone to complain that his neighbor is better clothed, housed or fed than himself.

Under the system there obviously would be no place for women who seek style and distinction in their clothes. Already there is a movement to abolish feminine dress goods by the yard and to substitute simple standardized costumes for women.

MY CANDLE

Courage is the candle
I must keep alight
Through the deepening darkness
Of the night.
I must keep it burning
With a steady flame,
As a white star ever
Shines the same.
I must watch it closely
Lest it flicker out,
Blown by some assailing
Wind of doubt.
Courage is the candle
God put in my hand;
I must guard it more than
Love or land.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of lower low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock at any tide, add 16.8 feet to the height of high water as above given.

BAILIFFS HAVE WIDE POWERS

Measure to Curtail Distress in Cases of Hardship by Protecting Requisites Introduced

EXEMPTION OF NECESSARY TOOLS

The information was given the Legislature yesterday by Hon. R. L. Maitland on the second reading of the bill to amend the Distress Act, that at present a bailiff might enter a home and sell the cook stove therefrom. Mr. Maitland is in charge of the bill which came up for second reading yesterday.

British Columbia had no law covering the subject of exemption from seizure with respect to homes. The new bill would provide what in the past was covered only by common law rules, he said.

The new enactment, it was proposed, should exempt bed and bedding, wearing apparel, cook stoves, furnishings necessary for the family, food and groceries for thirty days' time, and the tools used in ordinary calling up to $200.

There were provisions in the bill, said Mr. Maitland, which cleared up the question of exemption of goods belonging to a third party in the house.

The debate was adjourned by Mr. L. A. Hanna.

SEEK TO CLEAR MARRIAGE LAW

Legislature Is Asked to Enact System of Registration to Prevent Invalid Weddings

The Government is making an effort to prevent as far as possible trifling with the marriage laws of the province, and the marriage of persons without them realizing the full responsibilities connected therewith. In order to check up the situation, it has been decided to have those who are eligible to perform the marriage ceremony duly registered as such with the Government.

This course is not taken with the idea of trying to interfere with the clergymen who have the right to conduct the service, but it is done for the keeping of an exact record in order to avoid any danger of persons not qualified to do so performing the marriage ceremony. The bill is under the charge of Hon. R. L. Maitland.

On the second reading of the bill in the House yesterday, Mr. Maitland pointed to the fact that there was some uncertainty as to the validity of certain marriages in the province. There was no way of checking up whether a minister who performed the ceremony was duly ordained, or otherwise recognized.

It was proposed to register the ministers or clergymen so that validity would then attach to marriages performed by him.

There were three methods of marriage in the province, and he said he enumerated these for the benefit of Mr. Ian Mackenzie. These methods were by publication of banns; by marriage licence; and by civil process. Under the bill a licence would be held for eight days' abeyance before a marriage could be performed under it. There were provisions for the foregoing of this under certain cases.

SCARLET FEVER SERUM

Sir,—You have published a letter from Dr. Young, provincial health officer, regarding the scarlet fever serum and certain correspondence relating thereto.

I had reported to Dr. Young and others the information that Dr. Kegel, health department, Chicago, had given a speech on the radio on Thursday, December 12, in which he is alleged to have stated that the Chicago health department could not assume the responsibility of advising parents to have their children inoculated with this immunizing serum, as it was not in as good standing now as it was a year ago, and that the health department had taken this stand because of many "unhappy experiences" of parents who had exposed their children to the serum.

Dr. Young wired to Dr. Kegel for information and received from his department a letter—the same letter, it was said—which his department had sent to the Illinois Anti-Vivisection Society in response to one from them on the same matter.

The letter Dr. Young received reads in part:

"In reply to your letter concerning radio speech over Station KYW on Thursday afternoon, December 12, regarding immunization against scarlet fever, may I state that in reviewing the facts presented you have grossly misrepresented and misinterpreted in favor of your own views the information given."

It may be noted that Dr. Kegel's letter, from which I quote, does not deny that such statements were made. It only says that they have been misrepresented and misinterpreted. In sending this reply on to me, Dr. Young has added this remark:

"I beg leave to say that I am giving this information to the press as I consider that in such an important matter the facts should be presented in a truthful manner."

Dr. Young is quite right to wish for truthful representation; so are we. In response to numerous requests from your readers as to the facts of the case I give them herewith.

After Dr. Kegel made the speech which stirred the Illinois Anti-Vivisection Society, he received a letter from that organization, which propounded nine searching questions. It was thought that the parents of Chicago were entitled to full information regarding the serum. I withhold the questions for lack of space only. The letter to Dr. Kegel closes with the remark: "We shall be forced to regard failure upon your part to answer these logical and important questions as prima facie evidence that a serious blunder has been made somewhere, either in the manufacture, the sale, or the administering of this particular serum." All that Dr. Kegel says is, apparently, that he has been grossly misrepresented and misinterpreted. He has not replied to the queries, nor has his letter to the Illinois Society been printed in Chicago papers.

Anti-vivisection societies are working in the interests of animals, which are made to suffer severely in the production of serums, and they are also working to protect the public, children in particular, who may suffer through the administration of serums. The Illinois Society is justified in making the most searching inquiries as to the statements of Dr. Kegel on the radio, and the society I represent is justified in seeking to get the matter "presented in a truthful manner."

STROMBOLI AGAIN RAINING CINDERS

(Canadian Press)

STROMBOLI, Italy, Feb. 5.—A slight explosion in the Scia crater of the Stromboli volcano last night rained cinders on the surrounding countryside for fifteen minutes. No damage was done. The explosion was accompanied by dense clouds of smoke and subterranean rumbles. The crater was brilliantly illuminated all night.

Horsebreeders' Association Formed for B.C.

The British Columbia Horsebreeders' Association was formed at a meeting in the Empress Hotel yesterday morning.

Mr. Alex. Davie, of Ladner, was elected president, with Mr. W. H. Hicks, of Agassiz, as vice-president.

The directorate is as follows: Messrs. Joe Bulman, Westwold; A. W. McMorran, Gang Ranch, Cariboo; C. Oldfield, Marpole; A. D. Patterson, Ladner; J. Moreison, Kamloops; James Turner, Victoria, and G. P. Jackson, Salmon Arm.

An address was given by Dr. W. R. Gunn, Provincial Livestock Commissioner. He suggested the new association should seek co-operation from the Horsebreeders' Association of America, and that the organization should do educational work along lines to promote the industry.

The Vancouver council will be interviewed in connection with use of horse-drawn vehicles on Granville Street Bridge at certain hours, during which restriction now exists.

It seems now that the only way to get rich quick is slowly.

CHINESE BEGGARS MEMBERS OF GUILD

SHANGHAI, Feb. 5.—In China even beggars must become members of a guild. For the mendicant there is no other alternative than join and thereafter do as he is told. He must contribute his earnings to his begging society and at the end of the day or week all members gather about and the total revenue is divided equally after the leaders have extracted commissions.

Native shops and residents must also contribute to the guild or suffer serious consequences, such as having beggars threaten to die on the doorsteps. To have a beggar die at one's door in China is bad luck, and as a result there are very few Chinese non-subscribers to the various and numerous societies.

So professional is the begging class in China that children are brought up and trained for the profession, trade, or whatever you wish to call it. Parents have been known to mutilate their offspring for life just to make them suitable for begging. No sort of deformity is too horrible to commercialize upon.

CITY ELECTRIC WIRING DEPT. HEAD RESIGNS

Mr. Sydney L. Wilson Will Leave Corporation's Employ to Accept Post With Firm Here

CONSOLIDATION OF TWO DEPTS. LIKELY

Mr. Sydney L. Wilson yesterday tendered his resignation from the post of city electric wiring inspector. He has accepted a position with a private firm in Victoria.

It was learned at the City Hall that it is possible that the electric wiring department will be consolidated with the city electrician's department, with Mr. Matthew Hutchison, city electrician, in charge of the consolidation.

Applications for the vacant position of electric wiring inspector are being called for by the city, February 15 being the last day on which such applications will be received by City Clerk M. Frank Hunter. The appointment of Mr. Wilson's successor will be made shortly after that date, it is expected.

Mr. Wilson, who resides at 610 Michigan Street, and is a native son of Victoria, entered the city's service on October 29, 1923, in the capacity of electric wiring inspector. Since that time the number of inspections of electrical wiring work have increased enormously. More recently, in addition to the inspections in the city, Mr. Wilson has supervised electrical wiring inspections in Oak Bay and Esquimalt.

China Proposes Repudiation of U.S. Contract

(Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Feb. 5.—Although their action has not been made public, it was learned authoritatively today that the State Council of the Nationalist Government at Nanking has decided to repudiate the Government's ten-year contract with the American Company of Aviation and Exploring, Inc.

The contract covered air mail service from Shanghai to Hankow by way of Nanking. The service was inaugurated last October.

Although no explanation was given out, it was understood that the action was the result of the desire of the Ministry of Communication, which controls the air mails, to place the service under its own management.

MAYOR GREETS LIVESTOCK MEN AT CONVENTION

WORK OF BODY IS HIGHLY PRAISED

"The largest problem today facing those who are responsible for the government of this Dominion is the filling up of our vacant lands," declared His Worship Mayor Anscomb, during an address of welcome which he yesterday tendered the delegates to the British Columbia Stockbreeders' Association annual convention, held in the Empress Hotel.

Mayor Anscomb said, "We all know there is too great a tendency for people to flock to our large cities, and with the wealth of good farming land at our disposal in every province there is a crying need for men and women of the right type to be settled on our lands, to build up the great industry of agriculture and in a manner befitting the limitless possibilities of this vast Dominion.

"In this national problem, indeed it is an Empire problem, an association such as yours can render valuable assistance. Men who have a lifetime of practical experience amongst stock, with experience of the climatic conditions, nature of the lands, etc., throughout the whole province, are in a position to speak with authority and offer valuable advice in connection with this subject," said the mayor.

LIVESTOCK IMPROVEMENT

His Worship said it afforded him pleasure to welcome to the capital city such a representative group of delegates from all parts of the province, who were directly or indirectly working in the interests of the basic industry of all countries, namely, agriculture, and more particularly the question of the improvement of livestock.

"I do not pretend to have any intimate knowledge of agriculture or livestock, but it is common knowledge that mixed farming is better for the farmer and better for the land than concentration on one particular branch of the industry, and this association is carrying on a great work in its endeavors to get the best breeds of all classes of stock into the hands of the farmer, and I am sure your work should be encouraged in every possible way," Mayor Anscomb stated.

The mayor said he had read numerous articles regarding the lack of interest taken in the sheep industry in British Columbia. "We all know the wonderful way in which some of our sister Dominions have built up their national wealth with sheep and I remember a farmer in the Old Country used to be fond of saying that 'a sheep treads with a golden hoof.' I feel certain that you are fully alive to all the possibilities in this direction."

DAIRY CATTLE

The encouragement of the breeding of dairy cattle was another branch of the organization's work in which there were endless possibilities, stated His Worship, who added: "It does seem rather hard to understand why a country like ours should import so much butter. However, as I have said, I am not an authority on these matters, but as a layman taking an interest in matters affecting our well-being, I have often wondered if we cannot make better progress."

In concluding, Mayor Anscomb said: "I am sure that the work of this association cannot fail to be of benefit to this province and to the Dominion, and that the best brains of the breeding interests are giving thought to these various problems. In wishing your convention every success, let me say that we are glad to have an important meeting like this in the capital city, and I sincerely trust that the result of your deliberations will be productive of good to the province at large."

On the motion of Mr. A. D. Paterson, of Delta, seconded by Mr. A. W. McMorran, of Gang Ranch, Cariboo, the B.C. Stockbreeders' Association recorded its thanks to Mayor Anscomb for his words of greeting, and for the sentiments he expressed in his address.

Mr. Dawson will be received by the Native Sons at 8:45 o'clock, after a short business session of their assembly.

Negligent Motor Car Drivers Are Rapped by Board

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Feb. 5.—"If accidents are to be lessened the sane motorist must educate culpably negligent motorists," says the Board of Railway Commissioners in a report upon dangerous practices of motorists and others at railway crossings. The report states further that "motor accidents are becoming more frequent" and that "negligence is found both at unprotected and protected crossings."

The report is one issued periodically by the board and covers the period from July to October last. It includes ninety-nine cases on the lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway, sixty-four cases on the Canadian National, and four cases on the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo lines.

The most frequent form of negligence to which the board calls attention is disregard of "crossing signals."

Italy Assured Of Friendship Of the Balkans

By WILLIAM H. STONEMAN

ROME, Italy, Feb. 5.—Italy's stock in the Balkans has taken another big rise with the announcement that Chancellor Johann Schober, of Austria, who is now visiting in Rome, will sign a treaty of friendship and conciliation with Il Duce tomorrow.

In pursuit of Premier Mussolini's policy in attempting to form a ring of friendly states about the Balkan Peninsula as a potential check against the activities of the Little Entente—Rumania, Czechoslovakia and Jugoslavia—the Fascist Government now has understandings of one kind or another with Austria, Hungary, Bulgaria, Greece and Albania, though it is not known how much assistance some of these countries would furnish in case of differences.

Italy's support of Austria and Bulgaria at the reparations conference at The Hague has been especially helpful to her in her recent relations with these countries.

HOUSE MAKES GOOD PROGRESS

Opposition Leader Anxious to Have Papers Tabled on Various Important Subjects

COLLECTION AGENTS BILL

The Legislature is busily engaged on a considerable list of bills, there being enough on the order paper to keep the House busy for some little time. A new record, it is announced, has been established by the present Government in the matter of getting its legislation down early in the session. The Government bills are coming forward with marked rapidity.

So rapidly is the business progressing that the Leader of the Opposition, Mr. T. D. Pattullo, yesterday in the House held out the fear that with the budget in sight, unless some of the reports dealing with matters which have been investigated by commissions or returns upon which action has been taken by the Government were forthcoming, there would not be sufficient time to consider them.

EFFECT ON BUDGET

Mr. Pattullo objected to the public accounts committee having at its initial meeting that day decided that the first business sitting should be held on Tuesday next. The budget might be down before that. He suggested that the Prime Minister take this matter up with the chairman, and see if a meeting could not be held earlier.

Mr. T. D. Twigg, who had been elected chairman of that committee, explained that the date fixed had been at the suggestion of Mr. Ian Mackenzie. It was the Opposition members of the committee who had wished the date set so late.

Mr. Twigg said that he was willing to call a meeting of the committee at any time. He offered the suggestion that this point raised by Mr. Pattullo was one that should have come up in Liberal caucus rather than in the House.

Mr. Pattullo then placed the responsibility upon the member for Nanaimo, for calling his attention to the late date of the meeting of the committee.

The Leader of the Opposition, however, pressed upon the Prime Minister placing of papers asked for in the House on various matters with as little delay as possible.

The Prime Minister said that he was anxious to keep the business of the session moving along with due expedition. Some of the reports which were being asked for were not yet ready, but they would be delivered in the House at as early a date as possible.

AUDITORS' REPORT

In reply to Mr. Mackenzie, Hon. W. C. Shelly said that the final report of the auditors was now in the hands of the Government. Replying to a second query as to when it would be presented to the House, Mr. Shelly said that it would come in at an early date.

COLLECTION AGENTS

The bill to provide for licencing of collection agents was considered in committee.

Mr. George S. Pearson asked how this would apply to Merchants' Associations who employed a collector to cover all the firms.

Mr. Pooley thought such a case would come under the act, and the collector would have to take out a licence. He had no objection to standing the section over, so that any representations could be made on the subject before the bill went through the House.

The section was held over for later consideration.

The committee reported progress, after consideration of the bill.

OFFICIAL GUARDIAN ACT

The bill to amend the Official Guardian Act passed its second reading on Mr. Ian Mackenzie announcing he saw no objection to the measure.

On the adjourned debate of the second reading of the bill to amend the Assignment of Book Accounts Act, Mr. Hanna raised certain objections. He thought the registering of assignments should be made obligatory, so that the situation of a business could be ascertained.

The debate was adjourned by Mr. A. M. Manson.

"After having an operation, I was very miserable, weak, nervous and very near unfit to work. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and tried it and believe it helped me wonderfully. tance of Manchuria, and even Harbin. The element of time enters now, as then, for the freezing of the early Winter increases the Russ Power to strike, whereas the Spring thaws, due here in a few weeks, would cripple Red mobility.

AN OBVIOUS LESSON

However, the possibility of a true military drive by the Soviets is generally discounted on the theory that Nanking learned a proper and obvious lesson from the catastrophe which overwhelmed the Manchurian army.

Certainly, Mukden has learned its lesson, and on the possible consequence of Nanking's protracted obduracy, there might be, instead of an attack by the Soviets, a separate agreement between Mukden and Moscow, completely overlooking Nanking as the capital of united China. This, naturally, Nanking is anxious to avoid despite the wild talk of a desire for revenge.

SCHOOL ISSUE DISCUSSED AT WARD MEETING

CHOICE OF SITE NEAR ROYAL OAK

"I refuse to budget the council with a deficit of $60,000," said Reeve Crouch at the Saanich Ward Four Ratepayers' Association meeting at Marigold Women's Institute Hall last evening, in speaking on a motion proposed by a member that the high school be financed on the pay-as-you-go plan. "Such a course would be against the provisions of the Municipal Act, and the spectacle of a ratepayer or group of ratepayers going before a judge and asking for an injunction would ensue." To build the school out of current revenue, continued the Reeve, would mean an increase to forty-two in the mill rate, while, if the school were built through the proceeds of a fifteen-year loan, there would be no increase.

Chairman Tomes, of the School Board, who was present, had many questions leveled at him in connection with sites and plans. The ratepayers wanted to know if a site had been chosen after the tour of inspection which had been made that afternoon. Chairman Tomes replied that together with Architect C. E. Watkins and Contractor James Parfitt, the board had visited several sites, but no decision would be arrived at pending a joint conference between the school board and the council. While the school board members were at present open-minded as far as the choice of a site was concerned, they probably would favor one in some thickly populated section.

It was suggested that the people should have a voice in selecting the site, and that the opportunity should be embodied with the by-law. Chairman Tomes did not think the board would agree to such a course.

Trustee Briggs said the Department of Education had informed him that one high school was not sufficient for Saanich. There should be three schools anyway in the district. In view of the changing conditions in education, a permanent structure was inadvisable, nor should the municipality be committed to a large high school.

Chairman T. T. Beckett, of the Ratepayers' Association, in order to give the school board members present something to work on, requested the views of the meeting on where, in its opinion, the high school should be erected. A motion was then proposed and seconded to the effect that the new Saanich High School be built within a half mile radius of the Municipal Hall at Royal Oak. This motion carried unanimously.

Ladysmith C.G.I.T.

A mothers and daughters' banquet was given by the C.G.I.T. Girls in the Roberts Street Hall on Friday evening, when a beautifully set-out supper was provided, the guests of honor being the mothers. An address of welcome was given by the leader, who then gave the toast, "The King." Miss Mary Millar then proposed the toast, "Our Mothers." This was responded to by Mrs. J. McDonald. A reading by Miss Sarah Taylor followed. Next came the toast, "The Sunday School," proposed by Miss Alma Taylor and responded to by Mrs. Hubbard. A solo, "In the Garden," by Miss May Millar, was followed by the final toast, "Other C.G.I.T.'s," proposed by Miss Walma Joyce and replied to by the whole of the girls repeating the C.G.I.T. purpose in unison. Miss Tate addressed the girls on "High Ideals," giving an inspiring speech. Piano solos were played by Miss Margaret Rodgers. The community singing, which was heartily enjoyed, was led by Mrs. Hubbard.

There was a load of bricks on the edge of the football ground in readiness for some reconstruction work. A very keen supporter of the team came up. He gazed at the bricks for a few moments as if in deep thought, and then turned to the club secretary, who was standing by.

"Why didn't you get half-bricks?" he demanded. "They would have been much handier."

"Handier?" said the secretary. "I don't understand. We couldn't rebuild the pavilion with half-bricks."

"Oh—the pavilion!" sighed the supporter. "I thought they were for the referee."

MOUNTAIN FLIGHT MADE IN SAFETY

Calgary Aviator Returns After Crossing Rocky Mountains to Vancouver

CALGARY, Alta., Feb. 5.—Back from a flight from Calgary to Vancouver across the highest peaks of the Canadian Rockies, Flying Officer W. L. Rutledge, Calgary aviator, brought his Curtiss-Robin monoplane to earth at the municipal airport this evening shortly after 6 o'clock. He was accompanied by Mr. Percy J. R. Payne, secretary-treasurer of Rutledge Air Service, Limited.

Two important announcements were made by Flying Officer Rutledge, a result of observations made during the flight.

The flyer quashed the belief that a forced landing in the mountains meant instant death. There were many places where a forced landing could be made, and many others where landing fields could be built.

No longer need the mountains be barriers, and to coast cities, an air mail and passenger service could be operated, he said, and the trip between the two cities made in four hours.

The time of the flight from Merritt, B.C., where the aviators were delayed for a few days because of bad weather, was three hours and five minutes, covering slightly over 300 miles.

FIRST UNITED CHURCH MAKES STEADY GROWTH

MORTGAGE IS AGAIN REDUCED

The numerous activities of First United Church were reported to the congregation at its annual meeting last evening. Tribute was paid to Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, the pastor, and the former and present assistant pastors. Of the present assistant, Rev. Bruce G. Gray, it was said that during Dr. Wilson's absence in Europe he had admirably discharged the difficult task.

The Young People's department and Sunday school were particularly commended, and the high character of the musical part of the services, together with congratulations to the choir for its successes, came in for comment.

The treasurer's report, prepared by Mr. W. M. Walker, showed receipts on revenue account of $13,548, almost all from collections, expenses being just below this figure. The value of the assets is set down at $130,713, against which only $6,500 remains on mortgage. The church has paid off $800 from general account towards the mortgage discharge.

In addition to the receipts on revenue account mentioned above, other receipts brought the total to $25,984. Of this latter total, the missionary budget account represented $6,638.68.

The sessional statement contained the following: "The spiritual life of our congregation is increasing in depth and intensity. This is evidenced in several ways. Attendance at the church services has increased, and is particularly noticeable at the evening service. All the church organizations are in a healthy and growing condition. Willing workers are always obtainable for the Lord's cause. Offerings are larger, and everything seems to indicate an advancing movement in the good work."

The membership on the roll is 1,286, with an average attendance of 921, as compared with an average attendance of 895 in the corresponding period of 1928.

The Women's Missionary Society has a membership of 196, and there are 130 in the Young People's Society.

Managers for two-year terms elected were: Messrs. J. A. Heritage, J. B. Munro; three-year terms, Messrs J. M. Patterson, James Forman, W. R. Menzies, George T. Watson, J. Strong, W. C. Hudson, Harold Henderson and William Martindale.

SIX SAVORY SAUCES FROM ONE RECIPE

by Mary Blake

What variety varied sauces can give to foods—how delectable the most ordinary vegetable, the most familiar fish becomes when masked by a smooth, rich, well-seasoned sauce!

Below I give a basic recipe for white sauce, from which you can devise any number of interesting and savory sauces. To make a cheese sauce add a third of a cup of grated cheese to a cup of this white sauce. Pimiento sauce is made by adding 3 tablespoonfuls of chopped pimiento to a cup of sauce; egg sauce by including a chopped hard cooked egg, a tablespoonful of chopped parsley and a quarter-teaspoonful of celery salt; curry sauce by the addition of a teaspoonful of curry powder. A very satisfactory a la Newburg sauce is achieved by including a half-tablespoon of Worcestershire sauce or 3 tablespoons of sherry flavouring and 2 hard cooked eggs, mashed fine, to each cup of white sauce. And another delicious sauce is made by dicing a half of green pepper and three slices of broiled bacon and stirring them into the sauce.

To show the adaptability of this sauce to meats as well as fish and vegetables, I suggest that you try the recipe for Ham, Luncheon Style, which I give below. Its goodness is largely due to the Carnation White Sauce, and the goodness of the sauce is emphatically traceable to the principal ingredient—Carnation Milk.

This milk makes richer, smoother sauces

Sauces made with Carnation Milk are richer because Carnation is doubly rich in cream—broken up into finest particles to distribute it uniformly all through the milk. Also smoother because these smaller cream particles give a finer texture.

Yet Carnation Milk is not expensive to use; being evaporated to double richness, it can be diluted to any desired degree; and because it is whole milk, it saves on butter and cream.

Carnation milk is the best milk from selected herds; packaged, fresh from the dairy farms, with nothing added to it and nothing taken out except about half the water; and sterilized for safe-keeping. You can keep it in quantity; it is less wasteful than ordinary milk; and most convenient. Write for free Cook Book to Carnation Co., Limited, 134 Abbott Street, Vancouver, B.C.

Carnation Ham, Luncheon Style—1 cup boiled ham, diced, 2 cups peas, 2 tbsp. pimiento, diced, 2 hard cooked eggs, diced, 2 cups Carnation White Sauce*, salt and pepper. Add ham, peas, pimiento and eggs to white sauce. Season with salt and pepper. Heat thoroughly and serve on toast points or in patty shells. Serves 6.

*Carnation White Sauce—1½ tbsp. butter, 1½ tbsp. flour, ½ tsp. salt, few grains pepper, ½ cup Carnation Milk, ½ cup water. Melt butter in top of double boiler; add flour and seasonings; mix thoroughly. Add Carnation diluted with water; stir constantly until smooth and thick. Cook over hot water 10 minutes; stir occasionally.

and Remember

Carnation Milk is simply the best of whole milk, in a particularly convenient, economical and dependable form, preferable for all cooking.

Chatterer Makes a Bargain

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Make no bargain you may rue;
Be fair to self and others too.
—Old Mother Nature.

Timmy the Flying Squirrel sat in the dusk just outside the doorway of the home of Chatterer the Red Squirrel, eating corn. That corn had been left in a crotch of that tree by Chatterer, who now sat in the doorway watching Timmy eat.

"That is fine corn," said Chatterer.

"Indeed it is," replied Timmy. "I wonder how it came up here in this tree?"

Chatterer grinned. "I left it there for you," said he.

"Because I wanted you to taste it," replied Chatterer. "That's what I came over to your house about to-day. I'm sorry I woke you. I shouldn't have. You see, I was so full of a big idea that I couldn't wait."

Timmy turned those great eyes of his full on his Cousin Chatterer. You know Timmy has wonderful great black eyes. In them was something of suspicion now. "What was the big idea," he asked.

"Would you like to have all of this good corn that you want?" asked Chatterer.

"That's a silly question," retorted Timmy. "Of course I would."

"Would you be willing to share some with me if I should tell you how you can get all you want?" continued Chatterer.

Timmy thought this over for a moment. Then he nodded. "Of course I would," said he. "Who wouldn't?"

"What time do you go to bed?" inquired Chatterer.

"About the time the Black Shadows leave in the morning; just as jolly, round, red Mr. Sun begins his daily climb up in the blue, blue sky," replied Timmy.

"Don't you ever come out in daylight" inquired Chatterer.

"Not often," replied Timmy, "and then only on a dull, dark day."

Chatterer sighed. "I wish you did," said he. "As it is, I suppose I'll have to get up earlier than I like to. If you will meet me tomorrow morning just at break of day, and go with me, I'll show you how you can get all the corn you want and do it without any risk. I'll do this if you will bring me a little corn each time. Is it a bargain?"

"That's a silly question," retorted Timmy. "Of course, I would"

Timmy thought this over for a few minutes. He had some questions to ask. He wanted to make sure that no special danger was involved. You know, Timmy is very timid. It is because he is so timid that he is called Timmy. There is no one in all the Green Forest more timid, not even Whitefoot the Wood Mouse. Chatterer took pains to make it clear that there was no special danger.

"There is no one, excepting Black Pussy the Cat, for you to be afraid of," said Chatterer.

"I'm not afraid of Black Pussy the Cat," replied Timmy. "Black Pussy has got to be smarter than she ever has been to catch me. The ones I fear most are members of the Hawk and Owl families, chiefly the members of the Owl family."

"You needn't fear them over there," said Chatterer. "As you know, Hooty the Great Horned Owl does most of his hunting here in the Green Forest. Spooky the Screech Owl spends most of his time in the Old Orchard. Really, Cousin Timmy, you have nothing to fear."

"All right," replied Timmy, "I'll meet you right here at daylight tomorrow morning."

Midseason Silks

PRINTED silks of crepe texture are numerous in the shops and stand out impressively for Mid-winter dresses. That prints will have their usual Springtime prominence is evidenced by the fact that many designs in the sheerer fabrics are shown in silk collections. The print dress then is a very wise purchase at this period of the season.

Dark backgrounds with small spaced designs in contrasting coloring are the general rule for the reason that motifs must be suited to the complexities of the present mode. A secondary design frequently is relied upon to obviate a spotty effect.

A more youthful print is that in flame color, left centre, executed in a model suitable for the junior miss. It may be had in cocoa, navy or white background as well.

Rose buds and green twigs grace black silks; black and white flecks deck neutral backgrounds to which are added larger motifs in eggshell tint; black backgrounds are decorative with leaves of soft shades of green, widely spaced.

When brighter colors appear in decorative form the color apportionment is restricted, that is the patterning and coloring are restrained in the interests of good taste.

NOTRE DAME ORGAN PLAYED BY WOMAN

PARIS, Feb. 5.—A woman for the first time has played the great organ of Notre Dame Cathedral, an instrument two centuries old, and played at Napoleon's coronation.

The woman really is a girl, Renee Nizan, sixteen years old, but already a noted pianist, often applauded at concerts.

Even during the days of the revolution, when Notre Dame was sacked and turned into a "Temple of Reason," with a ballet dancer receiving there as "Liberty," and later during the Commune, no woman so far as recorded ever touched the old organ.

THE POKE BONNET RETURNS TO FAVOR

Of course, it isn't the huge thing of grandmother's days, but a most attractive modernized version. Especially is this true when it is developed in green lace straw and taffeta, as illustrated at the top of the drawing. An insert of taffeta is set in the centre of the crown and a cool pond lily reposes on the left side.

The second hat boasts a medium brim with crown of natural straw and brim of deep blue linen, finely hemstitched. It is simply trimmed with a band of grosgrain ribbon.

These straws and linen hats promise to be quite popular this season, and there is a good reason, for they charmingly complement the cotton frocks which will be widely worn.

Lynn, Bates, Kersey, Wallace, Goodman and Sparkes; refreshments, Mesdames MacQueen, White, Wallace, Fensham, Holmes, Lawrie, Fryer, Willoughby, Goodman, and Mr. Bates, Jr.; publicity and printing, Messrs. LEGISLATURE OF ONTARIO OPENED

Speech From Throne Foreshadows Further Legislation Dealing With Brokerage Houses

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 5.—Forecast of amendment to the Security Frauds Prevention Act eliminating "certain objectionable features" which were disclosed in the investigating into trading practices of the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange, was contained in the Speech from the Throne delivered by Lieutenant-Governor W. D. Ross at the opening of the Ontario Legislature this afternoon.

Other important disclosures foreshadow an amendment to the Liquor Control Act, extension of the Provincial Highway System through rural and Northern Ontario; tapping of the lignite coalfields at Blacksmith Rapids by extending the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway to James Bay; readjustment of the service charge to rural power users and legislation enabling loans to be advanced for farm installation and permanent equipment.

An interim report will be presented during the session by the Royal Commission appointed a year ago to investigate automobile insurance rates and the feasibility of making automobile insurance compulsory. A complete report will be presented from a Royal Commision which has been investigating hospitals, charitable institutions, social welfare and other kindred matters.

FINANCES ARE GOOD

Ontario's finances are in a healthy condition, the Speech disclosed.

A surplus was reported for the fiscal year which caused the provincial credit to be "noticeably enhanced and the Government will be able to met the cost of old age pensions and other fresh engagements without the necessity of seeking near sources of revenue."

Payment of a bounty on iron ores mined and smelted in Ontario will be made.

The opening ceremonies were conducted before a brilliant and large assembly. Rearranging of the seating capacities of the chamber made it posible for over 650 persons to have seats, one of the largest numbers ever to witness an opening ceremony at Queen's Park.

HON. T. A. CRERAR RETURNS TO HOUSE

BRANDON, Man., Feb. 5.—Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Railways and Canals in the Federal Cabinet, was today elected by acclamation as member from Brandon in the House of Commons.

Mr. Crerar, formerly president of the United Grain Growers, Ltd., succeeds Hon. Robert Forke as member for Brandon.

Mr. Forke retired from the House and was appointed to the Senate.

An Irishman and an American were discussing their acting. The American had told one or two tall stories, when he finally capped them with the following:

"Of course," he said, "the very first time I appeared on the stage I was presented with enough flowers to start a florist's shop."

"That's nothing," replied the Irishman, not to be outdone. "The very first time I appeared on the stage I was presented with a house."

"A house," laughed the American. "Why, man, that's impossible."

Lord Willingdon Heads Breeders Of Cattle Club

(Associated Press)

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 5.—His Excellency Viscount Willingdon today accepted the nomination of honorary-president of the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club, in convention here. Lieutenant-Colonel Bartley Bull, of Brampton, Ontario, had extended the invitation to His Excellency on behalf of the club, and received a telegram this afternoon in which the Governor-General accepted. Viscount Willingdon is greatly interested in the breeding of Jerseys, and stocked them on his farm in England.

Mr. J. W. McGillivray, Sardis, B.C., was elected president of the organization, and will also hold the office of British Columbia director.

One hundred delegates, from all parts of Canada, are attending the sessions, which conclude tonight.

Mother—"Fighting again; don't you know that well-behaved children do not hit one another."

Boy—"Yes, I thought Jack was well-behaved, and hit him, but he was ill-behaved."

At The Playhouses

COLISEUM THEATRE Ted Rowland's Pom-Pom Revue in a production entitled "Baby Mine" is proving popular with large audiences at the Coliseum Theatre this week. In addition to this fine stage attraction the management is showing the screen version of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's immortal poem "Evangeline," in which the title role is taken by Dolores Del Rio, lovely and talented Mexican star. Together these two attractions make a programme not often seen in Victoria, and so far this week the audiences have left the theatre entirely satisfied with the evening's entertainment.

ROYAL THEATRE "The Ghost Train," playing at the Royal Theatre this week, is, in spite of the bad weather drawing good attendances. Apart from the play itself, with all its thrills and laughter, the wonderful train effects are in themselves something to see and hear, and quite unique. Mr. Ernest Bodkin, as the stationmaster, is a typical type inimitably played; and Gordon McLeod will surprise all his admirers by his versatility in a part entirely different from anything in which he has been seen before.

VARIETY THEATRE Tremendously powerful drama, combined with sparkling comedy, is the Toby Leitch Players' offering at the Variety Theatre this week. Seldom has Raymond Toby Leitch brought a more brilliant comedy-drama to the Victoria stage than "The Man From South Dakota," which is delighting Variety audiences nightly. The play has everything to recommend it—thrilling, gripping drama, quick action, a charming love story, and comedy of the side-splitting variety for which Toby Leitch is so justly renowned. See this outstanding hit if you would enjoy a truly memorable play.

DOMINION THEATRE Determination plus ability spelled success for Sharon Lynn, who has a feature role in "Sunny Side Up," the Janet Gaynor-Charlie Farrell musical comedy directed by David Butler. Miss Lynn was born at Weatherford, Texas, but moved to Fullerton, California, before she had finished a course in kindergarten instruction. In addition to her ability to put over a song, Miss Lynn is a gifted pianist and has composed a number of successful melodies. In "Sunny Side Up," now at the Dominion Theatre all this week, she sings "Turn On the Heat," one of the most popular songs of the production.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE During the filming of "The Flying Marine," Columbia's spectacular air picture synchronized with dialogue, music and effects, now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, Jason Robards, who plays one of the featured roles, sprained both his ankles while making a parachute landing. This delayed production for two days.

CAPITOL THEATRE Paris, noted for its bizarre styles, is conservative alongside Hollywood, which sets the styles for American girls now. This is the opinion of Irene Bordoni, famous French star, who plays all this week at the Capitol Theatre in her first motion picture, "Paris," a First National offering.

Six Stage Coaches Are Used in Film

Six stage coaches in perfect replica of the old-time conveyances that were the sole means of public transportation as well as the beginning of express and freight lines, were built for use in the making of "The California Mail," Ken Maynard's latest Western feature, now showing at the Columbia Theatre.

The story of the first express companies with one operating under a government subsidy is absolutely authentic as well as one of the most romantic subjects of the west.

"The California Mail" beside its historical data is crammed full of action, thrills and daring. Ken and his wonder horse Tarzan have seldom appeared to better advantage.

Albert Rogell, expert stunt director, handled the megaphone on "The California Mail."

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

MERGER PLAN PRESENTS SOME OBSTACLES

B.C. Fox Farmers Will Remain Entity Outside Those Registered With Silver Fox Breeders

SEPARATE DEPT. IS ADVOCATED

A large and representative meeting of the British Columbia Silver Fox Breeders' Association met the fur farmers at the Y.M.C.A. and fully discussed the possibility of amalgamation. After hearing the Canadian National inspector and others, it was found that this amalgamation would conflict with the parent association's constitution. It was therefore decided that for the present the British Columbia Fox and Fur Association would include all fur farmers except those registered with the Canadian National Silver Fox Breeders' Association.

The Canadian National inspector told the meeting that only ninety-six fox farms were registered with the Canadian National in 1929, and as there are 585 fur farms in this province, it was found that 489 farms are eligible for membership in the B.C. Fox and Fur Farmers' Association.

The following were appointed members of the executive of this association, namely, Messrs. W. Miller Higgs, Galiano Island, president; Rev. M. W. J. Bruce, Saanich, vice-president; J. A. Hird, Tumbo Island, and the following from Victoria, Mrs. E. Simmonds, D. M. McDonald and D. W. Hanbury, with Duncan B. McLaren, as secretary-treasurer.

The headquarters of the association are situate at 1218 Langley Street, and its bank has been fixed as the Imperial Bank of Canada.

USEFUL WORK DONE

Mr. N. A. Moore's appointment as registrar and scorer of the association was unanimously adopted. Already owing to his previous appointment in this capacity, 200 foxes were registered and scored, 126 of this number being sold for export, and out of the balance a considerable number were sent to Eastern Canada.

This action of the B.C. Fox and Fur Farmers' Association has enabled several farmers to have filled orders which but for this registration and scoring would have been lost to this province.

Dr. W. R. Gunn, livestock commissioner for the province, was present at the meeting, and gave some valuable hints.

The following resolution was passed, and will be presented to the Government shortly:

"Whereas, the farming of fur-bearing animals throughout British Columbia has steadily progressed during the past few years, and to such an extent that according to Dominion Government statistics (1928), there are no less than 306 fox farms in the province; and,

"Whereas, in addition to these farms, there are about 270 farming such fur bearers as muskrats, mink, raccoon, beaver, fisher, etc.; and,

"Whereas, the trappers of today no longer operate their trap lines as formerly, but have become virtually farmers of their own trap lines throughout the year; and,

"Whereas, the rabbit breeders have for some years demonstrated what can be done with rabbit wool and rabbit pelts; and,

"Whereas, in British Columbia's fox farms and equipment fully $1,500,000 is now represented; and,

"Whereas, the Canadian National inspector reports that only ninety-six fox farmers were registered in 1929; therefore,

"Be It Resolved, that this association urges the Provincial Government to provide a separate department for fur-bearing animals of the livestock division of the Department of Agriculture so that the farming of all these fur bearers may receive the same care and consideration from our Government as is given to dairying, poultry raising, fruit growing and field crops."

A START

In spite of a reckless swerve, the speeding motorist killed the owl which darted across the road in front of his car. The motorist pulled up just as an old woman, who lieved in a cottage nearby, came out of her gate.

Her face was stern, her expression hard and forbidding. Before she could utter a word, the motorist plunged a hand in his pocket and tendered her a pound note.

"Here, my good woman," he said apologetically; "this will square matters."

The sour face softened.

"It's good of you," she said. "Now I shall be able to start keeping fowls myself."

CHAPTER XXVIII

Superintendent Cobham reversed the windlass, allowing the bucket to descend the shaft for a few feet. Then he reflected, started, pulled the bucket back once more, and proceeded to cut a few yards from the end of the rope.

"I don't want to do a particularly silly suicide," he mused as he detached the bucket and went to a small tree near him.

Knotting the short length of rope to a branch about ten feet up, he hung on to test it, found that it bore his weight safely, and returning to the coping, where he once more attached the bucket to the cut end of the main rope. Then he reversed the windlass until the bucket had drawn all the rope off the cylinder.

Now that everything was ready for his descent, he found that he had forgotten to bring his electric torch with him. But that could not be helped, and he had a box of wax vestas in his pocket, which would burn longer and more brightly than wooden matches.

There was, of course, some risk to be taken, but that was unavoidable. old shafts like that have more than once proved fatal to those who explored them, on account of the foul air and noxious gases collected in the depths. Cobham shrugged, put his vestas in a convenient pocket, got his legs over the coping and his hands on the rope and prepared to lower himself down.

As he swung over that dark pit he had a momentary qualm. Then he braced himself and descended slowly, his legs twined about the rope, until his head was a few feet below the level of the ground. He hung there, found and lighted a match with one hand, the box held between his teeth, emery paper outward, and quickly examined the lining of the well.

His first examination gave no results. He paused again, two feet further down, relieved to find the air breathable and the match burning well. Again he saw nothing to interest him.

He repeated the experiment every two feet or so, until he had descended for about twenty feet. The air was then rather murkier, but he did not experience any painful discomfort.

He took the well to be something like forty feet deep. He must, on that basis, have been still some eighteen feet from the bottom when he came on something that forced from him a little murmur of congratulation.

He had already decided that the well did not provide a supply of drinking water, in spite of the evidence of the new rope. He had guessed at another purpose, while not at all sure he had guessed right. But now he knew, and chuckled!

Just opposite his head the stones of the casing had been removed, leaving a hole in the side of the wall about eighteen inches square. As he stared at it his match went out.

In a moment he had lit another vesta and pushed it forward into the mouth of the hole.

He hung there, staring and gasping. Inside there were four objects that looked like flat boxes done up in waterproof canvas. He did not touch them. The shape, the care taken to keep them from damp, hinted at their purpose. The second vesta burned his fingers and went out, but he never felt the sting.

He began to scramble up quickly, like a man who is in a desperate situation and has no time to lose. When he reached the top he clambered over the coping, threw the cut fragment of rope he had used for testing over a hedge, and bolted. He covered half a mile at a tremendous pace until he found himself in a field and in the lee of a field roller. There he flung himself breathlessly down and lay like a log for ten minutes, staring up at the hot sky.

After a while he began to hum. He began with "Annie Laurie" and ended with the marching melody of "Colonel Bogey."

Then he got up and hurried to the station and was back in time for dinner at his London hotel.

After dinner he rang up Clive Merton.

"I suppose it's all right about that game of ours tomorrow, sir?" he asked.

He heard Clive laugh. "Of course. I say, you're pretty keen, you know. —When did you get back?"

"I finished my business this afternoon, sir," said Cobham demurely. "By the way, sir, isn't it Colonel Bogey you gentlemen are always trying to beat at golf?"

"That's the gentleman," said Clive. "Why?"

"Because I hope to play Bogey this next time," said Cobham.

Clive did not understand what he meant, but merely laughed. "Come over if you have nothing to do, Cobham. I am having a quiet evening."

"Well, if you don't mind, I will, sir," said Cobham, and rang off.

He was with Clive half an hour later, enjoying a good cigar, and beginning to develop his plans.

"Now, sir," he said. "I told you last time that I might have to call on you sometime to aid the law. It may be sooner than you expect."

Clive started. "Good! What do I do, eh?"

Cobham shrugged. "If my man shows fight it will be up to you to help tackle him. I don't have to teach you how to do that, sir."

"Go low!" said Clive, remembering his Rugby days. "Yes, I think I can put down most men if I have a mind to it."

Cobham nodded. "That's the ticket. I don't know if he will have a shooter. He may. We'll have to chance that. What I want to warn you is this. I may get my chance unexpectedly. It may come when you don't know it is near. But the the moment I nod my head sharply twice, be ready to smother him and back me up. I hope I can do it myself, but you never know, for he's an ugly customer."

Clive looked serious. "I know now. You can rely on me. But it might be a help if you could give me a pointer where we are likely to meet him."

Cobham reflected for a little and then agreed. "Very well, sir. I think you are right.—He is a member of the golf club where we are going to play."

"Great Scott!" Clive almost shouted. "So that was why you were so keen on golf. By George, Cobham, you are a deep one! When you play Bogey you ought to give some one a scare!"

Cobham smiled. "I don't think I have done badly this trip, sir."

"By jove, no! But I say, what is the fellow coming here for? Have you any idea of that, or is it a secret?"

Cobham shook his head. "If I'm right, he has cached the swag down the shaft of a well at a week-end cottage near here, sir."

"Then you have seen it?"

"No, but I have seen what look like boxes down there, all covered in waterproof canvas, sir."

Clive was much excited now. "But why should he come here?"

"Well, having got the swag, it was his job to see that no one traced it. Now that the hue and cry has died down, he is moving it, I imagine. Mind you, sir, I might get a nasty jolt yet; only I can't believe I shall. The stuff is put there when the trouble is on, then he begins to move it to the locker at the club house, and from there, I suspect he will take it away bit by bit, till he is ready to make his bolt."

"So that is why you were asking about the lockers and so on? I began to smell a rat when you were so curious, but for the life of me I couldn't connect that with the crime."

"Well, you know now," said Cobham, puffing amiably.

"If he turns up with a bag, I am going to nab him, and then your turn will come."

He excused himself and left Clive half an hour later and paid a late visit to Scotland Yard. From there he went back to his hotel, to find a telegram awaiting him. It was brief but pregnant.

"They fit!—Haite."

TO ADVERTISE FOR CONSTABLE

Saanich Police Board at Special Meeting Decides on Addition to Force

At a special meeting of the Saanich Police Commissioners held at Royal Oak on Tuesday evening, it was decided that another constable was necessary for the proper patrolling of the municipality's outer wards and an advertisement was authorized calling for applications. The new constable to be appointed will be assigned to the patrol of the arterial highways to be created by the Provincial Government. His appointment will date from March 1, when his duties will commence, and he will be required to live north of Royal Oak.

The addition to the force will give Chief Rankin four men. No salary was decided on, and a period of six months' probation will have to be served before the position is made permanent. The chief reported that seventy complaints had been disposed of during January. Seven houses had been burglarized and some $68 taken. As great care had been taken to secure the safety of skaters during the cold spell at Elk Lake, Swan Lake and Portage Inlet; no accidents had occurred. There were twenty-four motor accidents, all of a minor character except one, when Mrs. Martha Davies was fatally injured. Taxes and licences collected during January amounted to $386.50.

Church Assembly Will Probe Into State Relations

(Canadian Press Cable)

LONDON, Feb. 5.—The Church Assembly by an overwhelming majority today adopted the motion of the Archbishop of York proposing appointment of a commission to investigate the relations between church and state in England.

The motion was adopted by a vote of 382 to 105, moved by His Grace, Most Rev. William Temple. It declares it is a fundamental principle that the church should have the right to formulate its faith in God and to arrange the expression of that faith in its forms of worship.

The Archbishop urged it was bad for society to conduct its life in an uncertain relationship to the laws governing it and the difficulty facing the church was not administrative, but moral.

TREATMENT FOR DEAFNESS HEAD NOISES AND CATARRH SENT FREE!

Ear Tubal Deafness Successfully Treated by Simple Home Method

The Results of Over 40 Years' Experience of a Specialist

Phenomenal success has attended this home treatment. More than 500,000 cases of deafness, head noises due to ear tubal catarrh and ordinary nasal catarrh have used this method in all sections of the country and out of this number a huge number have reported complete satisfaction.

Most of these sufferers have been people whose hearing was bad in one ear and was rapidly getting bad in the other. With every cold, the hearing grew worse. This condition was relieved for many; relieved not only for the time, but their catarrhal condition was bettered and in many cases all traces of the disease disappeared.

Deafness strikes at all—old and young—and this home treatment has been used by people of all ages. By this method many who were apparently destined to go through life with the handicap of impaired hearing were made normal once more.

Tells of Development

Years ago the late Dr. Coffee himself began to suffer with head noises, dullness of hearing and with catarrh. He was rapidly losing his hearing. It was bad in one ear and with every cold it would get bad in the other. Slowly but surely his hearing appeared to be leaving him. He naturally tried every treatment that he knew of, as deafness in his profession would have been fatal to his success. After a great loss of time and when two operations had failed to give permanent relief he calmed his fears and began to analyze the cause and effect of the trouble.

Basing his treatment on the results of this study he evolved a system which he believed would remove the handicap of deafness if anything would. There was nothing magical about it. It was a logical scientific treatment and within a short time he began to improve. After some time, he was practically normal again.

Treatment Sent to Thousands

Acquaintances and friends of the doctor's inquired as to the treatment and soon he was overwhelmed with requests for the method. To treat this number of people in time alloted to office hours would have been impossible; and so he started to develop a home treatment. After careful consideration he effected a course which he believed to be effective. He allowed a number to try it at home, without the assistance of a physician, and found that they could do the work with almost the efficiency and the good results that a doctor could.

To prove that this treatment is effective—that deafness, dullness of hearing and head noises from ear tubal catarrh, and nasal catarrh can be treated and relieved at home, free trial home treatments will be sent to sufferers on request.

Thousands Recommend Dr. Coffee's Treatment

Don't miss this chance to make the acquaintance of this logical and purely medical treatment. A treatment, the worth of which is attested by so many who have written of their relief.

Slowly and carefully it was developed—until at last, after many thorough, painstaking tests, Dr. Coffee was convinced that he had the best treatment, the most effective course he had ever found. Its success in the past proves that it accomplishes its purpose.

Deaf Since Childhood; Hearing Greatly Benefited This Way

Chronic and Acute Deafness Ends

Mrs. Mona McBride, of Illinois, says: "This is to certify that since having scarlet fever when a little girl, I have been hard of hearing, and for the past four or five years I have been almost entirely deaf. A few months ago my left ear began to discharge. I found it to be abscessed and discharging a foul fluid. Nothing seemed to stop it and finally I tried Dr. Coffee's treatment. To my surprise and delight the hearing in the ear which was partially deaf for nearly 20 years has returned and the abscess has healed. Now I can hear a conversation six feet away. I didn't believe it possible, and I certainly advise anyone suffering with deafness to try this treatment. I obtained relief in a short time."

Mrs. A. A. R., of Middlebranch, Ohio: Just a few lines to let you know that your free trial treatment has done me lots of good. I can hear with my ears and the head noises are all gone now and I feel better. I want to thank you for the benefits I have received. I will tell it to people I know of with head noises and nasal catarrh. Your medicine is very good.

THIS PHOTOGRAPH ILLUSTRATES HOW YOU WILL FEEL WHEN RELIEVED OF DEAFNESS AND CATARRH

Saved From Deafness and Catarrh by Home Treatment!

Literally thousands of people from different sections of the United States have used this special, original home treatment. Not only have many found relief from distressing head noises, but restoration of good or normal hearing as well.

Wonderfully Improved

"I received your treatment for catarrhal deafness and in just three days after I had used it, my hearing began to improve. And now I am wonderfully improved."

Yours very truly,
D. H. Carpenter,
Alabama.

"Please accept my sincere thanks for the successful treatment of my hearing. After being nearly deaf in both ears I have attained my good hearing once more.

"Sorry not to have acknowledged before and wish to say I am grateful to you for the wonderful results."

Mrs. C. Lunden,
Per E. Lunden.

Head Noises Gone

"I was remarkably benefited by your treatments. I have been troubled for years with violent head noises and finally a friend advised me to try your method; he sent for the treatment himself. I noticed improvement at once, and now I am well."

Mr. C. McGinnes,
Pennsylvania.

"I am writing this letter in reply to the one that I received from you. Your treatment has certainly done wonders for me. I can't find words to express my thanks. I will recommend your treatment wherever I go. If you wish to publish this letter you have my permission to do so."

Mamie A. Chapman.

"I had been suffering with catarrh for seven years and tried a great many remedies, but did not find anything that helped me until I got hold of Dr. Coffee's. Can say after taking the treatment I noticed a change for the better inside of a week. I will recommend your treatment to anyone who has catarrh."

P. A. P., Monte Vista, Colo.

Deafness Due to Catarrh Of the Air Passages

Authorities Blame Ear Tubal Catarrh for a Large Per Cent of Deafness Throughout the World

According to authorities who base their assertions on years of research and actual medical observation and practice, a very large percentage of the deafness in the world today is due to catarrh—ear tubal catarrh.

Not only is ear tubal catarrh, which is really a development of nasal catarrh, blamed for deafness, but at its door are laid many other diseases, such as stomach catarrh, poisoned conditions of the body, and a generally diseased condition.

This May Be Relieved

This condition may be relieved. Dr. W. O. Coffee, a specialist in the Middle West for many years, developed a home treatment for deafness, head noises from ear tubal catarrh, and catarrh itself. Through this method, it is possible to remedy the catarrhal condition in many cases and make hearing practically normal once more. It has been proved that in many cases this is true.

Improvement General

Physicians state, authoritatively, too, that in these cases doubtless other diseased conditions were combated and relieved by the defeat of catarrh; for it no longer poured its daily portion of poison into the human system and the body was no longer required to use a great portion of its strength in throwing off this poison. As a result it was better able to combat new disease and the general physical condition was bettered in addition to the relief given for deafness.

Dr. Coffee's Home Treatment for Deafness has been used by over 500,000 persons. It should benefit you likewise, provided you are not totally deaf from disease or from shock, or from any cause where the hearing apparatus has been broken down.

Some Case Reports

Mr. M. L. J., of Detroit, Mich.: Dear Sirs: For fifteen years I suffered from catarrh of the nose, head and throat. Suffered with head noises and deafness. I used your treatment and I am well. I highly recommend it to every one who suffers with catarrh.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. T., of Cootes Store, Va.: Dear Sir: We should have written you sooner. Your medicine certainly has proved to do as you said. Our son has recovered entirely of his head and ear trouble. It isn't necessary for another treatment.

Mr. D. L. S., of Saint Michaels, Md.: Dear Sir: Have used practically all the medicine with a great result. Do not think it necessary to use more as my catarrhal trouble is about vanished and can hear almost normal. Do not know how to thank you for such a kind deed.

Offensive Catarrhal Conditions Relieved By Home Remedy!

Young and Old Have Received Some Remarkable Benefits From This Treatment

An Effective Means of Combating a Loathsome Condition

Without doubt, nasal catarrh is the most offensive of all diseases; it disgusts and nauseates all who may be within hearing. The constant hacking, sniffling and stifled mouth breathing — the mucus discharge, which can only be eliminated by blowing the nose or by continual spitting, is sickening to all who are near.

Surely anyone can recognize catarrh by the constant discharge of that filthy, disease-laden mucus. And realizing what frightful impurities are carried by this germ-filled catarrhal fluid, no one should permit such a condition to continue—especially when so simple and effective a means of combating it may be tried without cost or obligation.

Over 500,000 Cases Treated

This remedy has been tried by sufferers from catarrh, deafness and head noises in practically all of the English-speaking countries of the world. In fact, the demand has been so great that it has been necessary for the Dr. W. O. Coffee Co. to open a branch office in Canada in order to take care of deaf and catarrh sufferers in the Canadian Provinces. If this treatment can produce splendid results for these people, why don't you try it? Just send coupon which appears on this page.

Now, don't lay this aside with the intentions of sending the coupon tomorrow. It may slip your mind and with it will go an opportunity to test absolutely free of cost a catarrh treatment declared by many to be the most effective and gratifying they have ever used.

No matter how long you have suffered or how many so-called "remedies" you have tried in desperation, you are urged to try this treatment originated by a physician of more than 45 years' experience. You will be glad you did so.

Treated Successfully at 80 Years

"I used the medicine you sent me and have completely recovered. I am 80 years of age and you can use my name and this letter as you see fit, but I am very thankful for your medicine as it has helped me and I think Dr. Coffee's treatment is great."

Calvin Gibston, Okla.

MARINE and TRANSPORTATION

Disaster to Harpooner Off Newfoundland Coast in 1816 Caused Large Loss of Life

HALIFAX, N.S., Feb. 5. — Although Sable Island for scores of years has been the graveyard of the Atlantic in the vocabulary of mariners, many of the most tragic wrecks in Western waters have left their story on less-known landmarks.

Some of the descendants of those who suffered and [redacted] the wreck of the transport Harpooner on the coast of Newfoundland a hundred and fourteen years ago are familiar with the story of one of the worst disasters in the history of North Atlantic shipping, but details of the tragic deaths of more than two hundred men, women and children may be read for the first time by the general public of the present.

It was on the night of November 10, 1816, that the transport, off her course and poking through fog, crashed against the rugged cliffs at St. Shotts, on the southeastern coast of Newfoundland, in the district of St. Mary's. This was neither the first nor last disaster at the scene, other ships having found their graves there, with the loss of many lives. In an account of the Harpooner's fate, published in The Acadian Recorder, of Halifax, towards the end of 1816, fear, pathos and heroism combined to furnish a tale more vivid than fiction. A unique detail of the wreck was the fact that most of the survivors were indebted to a dog for their lives.

When the Harpooner, in command of Captain Joseph Bryant, left Quebec for England, she carried 385 passengers, as well as the ship's company, principally the 4th Royal Veteran Battalion, commanded by Captain Prime and Lieutenant Myirea. Also on board were detachments of the Royal Artillery, Artillery Drivers 70th, 76th, 99th, 103rd and DeWatterville's and Glengarry Fencibles, under command of Captain Willock, 103rd Regiment. Many of these soldiers had fought in the United States in the war of 1812, and a number were still suffering from wounds.

FOG ENCOUNTERED

The weather was moderate as the Harpooner sailed down the St. Lawrence River and Gulf. No observation had been taken for several days, however, on account of fog, and the ship was believed to be much farther east than was really the case.

Proceeding at a speed of about five knots, she struck at St. Shotts at 9 o'clock in the night. The captain called all hands forward and had the vessel swung around with her stern to the shore. Due to the cliffs and surf, it was impossible to land without a line or boat. Then a heavy gale sprang up. The large boats on the Harpooner were smashed to pieces soon after the ship struck, and the masts were cut away. Some of the crew were successful in lowering the stern boat and reaching shore, but they could not return through the heavy surf. The ship, lying on her beam ends, was submerged by wave after wave. A fire started from the cabin stove, but it was soon extinguished by the water.

The passengers and soldiers, collected on deck, clung to the weather side and other parts of the ship, forming a small mass. Efforts to get a line to shore that night were fruitless. As the dark hours passed, many persons perished from exposure, and others were swept overboard, one by one, as they lost their holds. But the ordeal had not reached its climax, although at daylight contact was made with land by tying a rope to a dog, which swam to shore. The fittest survived. Only the strongest could swing hand over hand to safety above the heads of the others.

SHIP BREAKS UP

At 11 o'clock that morning those on shore saw the ship begin to break up. "Go forward!" they cried. The warning was useless. The vessel crumbled, her remaining passengers being washed into the waves, and the horror was indescribable, as children clung to parents whose struggles were unavailing. Lieutenant Myirea, aged seventy, one of the oldest subalterns in His Majesty's service, lost his life after remaining on the wreck for nineteen hours. His daughter was drowned in his arms.

On the following day, after spending the night on the rocky shore, the survivors found a house a mile away, occupied by a fisherman, who could furnish no relief but food and shelter for a few.

Two military officers and Captain Bryant were successful in reaching Trepassey and sent back provisions. The men who carried this aid returned to Trepassey with the remaining survivors through a morass of sixteen miles. In their weakened state, the sufferers were almost overcome by the additional hardship.

St. Shotts has been the scene of numerous shipping disasters. His Majesty's ship Comus was wrecked there before the Harpooner, and in later years the Cromwell and George Washington, both steamers of the same line, were smashed against the cliffs and disappeared with all hands.

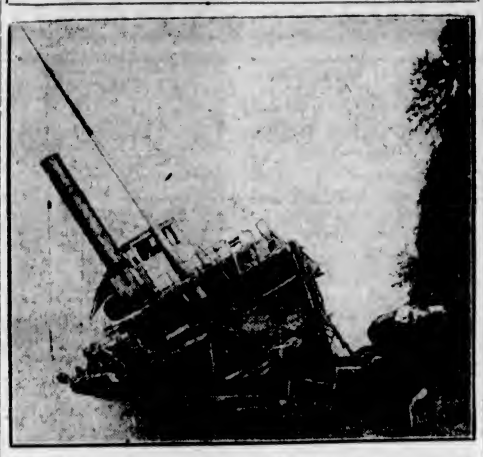
Was Once Familiar Scene



ONE of the old wooden walls of the Empire was mentioned by Mr. George W. Allan, K.C., of the Hudson's Bay Company, in his recent address. In the course of a speech, he stated that the frst paddle steamer to cross the North Atlantic and steam around The Horn was the Beaver. Built in England in 1835, this famous old vessel was eventualy wrecked off Vancouver. The remains of the wreck, as seen in the photograph here, were towed to Stanley Park, Vancouver, and for many years served as one of the sights for visitors to the Pacific Coast.

SWENSONS LEAVE NANUK BY PLANE

(Associated Press Cable)

POINT BARROW, Alaska, Feb. 5—After being marooned for months on the fur trading ship Nanuk at North Cape, Siberia, Miss Marion Swenson, Seattle high school girl, her father, Olai Swenson, head of the fur trading company which owns the ship, and Captain Milovzorov of the Nanuk, were scheduled to take off today, if weather permitted, for Teller, Alaska.

Miss Swenson radioed here that they were to attempt the flight in a Fairchild plane piloted by Captain Pat Reid, a Canadian aviator sent north to engage in the search for Pilot Carl Ben Eielson and Mechanic Earl Borland, aviators, who were lost November 9, while flying from Teller to North Cape. The wreckage of the Eielson plane was found January 25 in a lagoon, ninety miles southeast of North Cape, but the bodies of the aviators have not yet been located.

Reid, Miss Swenson said, was to take on a heavy load of gasoline when he reached Teller and return to the Nanuk so that other planes at the ship would have fuel to continue their trips to the scene of the wreck. Miss Swenson has announced that on their arrival at Teller she and her father would fly to Nome and Fairbanks, from where they would travel by rail to Seward and then proceed to Seattle by steamer.

FIVE NEW FLYING BOATS ON ORDER

Department of National Defence Will Spend Sum of $350,000

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Feb. 5.—The Department of National Defence announced today that it had ordered five Vancouver flying boats from Canadian Vickers, of Montreal, at a total figure of about $350,000. The machines will be used as replacements for obsolete flying equipment employed in forest fire suppression.

The Vancouver flying boat was developed by Vickers to meet the need of the department for a large cabin aircraft which would be capable of carrying heavy loads at high speeds and of getting in and out of small lakes. It has an all-metal hull and is a biplane with a wing span of seventy feet. Its top speed is well over 100 miles an hour, while the cruising speed is just 100 miles an hour. At this speed it will carry two pilots, a mechanic and the equivalent weight of seven additional men. It is powered with two engines of 325 horsepower each.

ALABAMA MARU IS OUTBOUND TODAY

Outbound for ports of Japan and China, the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner, Alabama Maru, is expected at Rithet piers from Seattle at 4 o'clock this afternoon, according to Mr. Albert E. Shanks.

Due Here Friday

Inbound from the Orient, the American Mail liner, President Taft, is expected at Rithet piers early Friday morning. Outbound, Ss. President Pierce will dock at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon for a two-hour stay.

Craft Drifts to Scotland

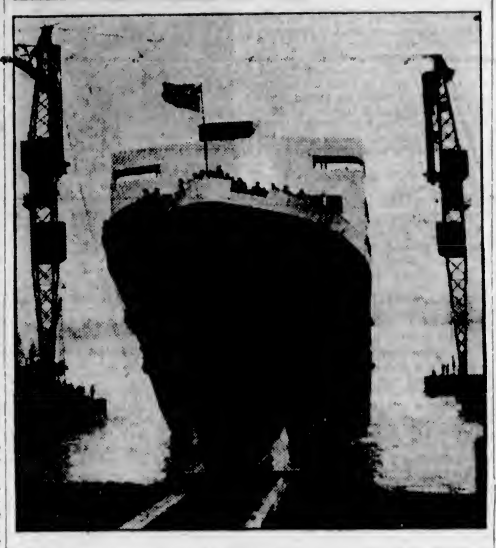
Ss. Prince Henry Launched



THIS photograph shows Ss. Prince Henry, new Canadian National Pacific Coast vessel, taking the water after the launching at Birkenhead. The ceremony was performed by Miss Ishbel MacDonald, daughter of the Prime Minister of Great Britain. The Ss. Prince Henry will arrive at Vancouver early in June and will go into Alaskan service on July 3. Ss. Prince David and Prince Robert will follow shortly to enter the Seattle-Victoria-Vancouver service.

Sophia Report Is Approved by Federal Judge

SEATTLE, Feb. 5.—Recalling the wreck of the steamship Princess Sophia in Alaskan waters on October 25, 1918, Federal Judge Jeremiah Neterer yesterday signed a final decree approving the report of Mr. Robert Tripple, trustee in the case. Many lives were lost in the wreck.

Numerous items in Tripple's report were resisted by Attorney William Martin, who is prosecuting claims of more than $2,000,000 against the Canadian Pacific Railway on behalf of persons drowned. The Canadian Pacific operated the vessel.

Huge Amount of Postal Matter Carried by Air

OTTAWA, Feb. 5.—A total of 435,163 pounds of postal matter was flown over the various air mail routes operated in Canada during 1929, according to figures compiled by the Postoffice Department.

The figures, it is pointed out, may be amended in an upward direction when more complete information is available here.

A man who was missing things from his premises every morning gave his servant, Pat, a sovereign and told him to go to town and buy a good yard dog.

"What kind of dog is that?" roared his master.

ENGLAND OBTAINS THOMPSON TROPHY

Sir Esme Howard Says British Still Able to Hold Own in Air

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Great Britain today became custodian of the L. S. Thompson Trophy for the world's greatest speed in the air.

Sir Esme Howard, British Ambassador, in accepting the trophy from Senator Hiram Bingham, Connecticut, president of the National Aeronautic Association, said, "We British are generally supposed to be a slow-moving race, but it seems that in some branches of speed we can still hold our own with the rest of the world."

The trophy will be kept in the embassy until a new record is established. A smaller model of the award becomes the permanent possession of Squadron Leader Orlebar, who set a new record of 357.723 miles an hour.

AORANGI LEAVES FOR SOUTH SEAS

Big Motor Liner Takes Out Light Total List of 213 Passengers

Outbound for Honolulu, Suva, Auckland and Sydney, R.M.Ms. Aorangi arrived at Rithet piers at 5:15 o'clock last evening, departing at 8 o'clock in command of Captain R. Crawford.

The liner carried 123 first class passengers, sixty-one second class and twenty-nine third class. She loaded 500 bags of mail and sixty-one tons of box shooks, doors and cheese-box tops here.

DAMAGE UNDETERMINED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5. — The McCormick Line steamer West Ira, which struck a submerged object off Point Montara Sunday and which put back to port here for survey, is to go on drydock as soon as the water-damaged cargo in the one punctured hold of the ship can be discharged.

All efforts to determine the damage to the steamer since her arrival in port proved futile and it was decided by the owners of the ship and the underwriters to put the craft on drydock at the earliest possible moment.

PRINCESS JOAN IS FINE CRAFT

NEW BRITISH COLUMBIA COAST VESSEL IS 365 FEET IN LENGTH

Will Be Able to Accommodate 1,500 Day Passengers and 431 at Night

GLASGOW, Feb. 5.—Tribute to the memory of the late Sir Augustus Nanton, whose daughter sponsored the launch of Ss. Princess Elizabeth on Tuesday, was paid by Sir George McLaren Brown, Eurropean general manager of the Canadian Pacific, who said that there had been no better known or more revered upholder of Canadian traditions throughout the Dominion. Last year Lady Nanton, his widow, had honored the Canadian Pacific by sponsoring the launch of their transatlantic liner Duchess of Richmond, and it was a further honor to have his daughter perform the ceremony of launching the Princess Joan.

The Princess Joan is the fourteenth ship launched by the Canadian Pacific in a little over two years, and brings the total of new tonnage launched since the Autumn of 1927 to 170,000, made up of four transatlantic passenger liners, one transpacific passenger liner, five Atlantic express freight ships, and four coastal vessels for British Columbia, the Princess Elaine, Princess Norah, Princess Elizabeth and Princess Joan.

The Princess Joan is 365 feet in length, 52 feet broad and has a moulded depth to the main deck of 19 feet. Her gross tonnage will be 5,000, net tonnage 2,780 and mean load draft, 16 feet. Propelled by twin screws, driven by quadruple expansion engines, she will be capable of a sea speed of 16 1-2 knots. Accommodation is provided for 406 first class and twenty-six second class passengers on night voyages, and 1,500 passengers on day voyages. First-class passengers will be accommodated in two and three-berth rooms on the upper promenade and boat decks. Like the Princess Elizabeth, the Princess Joan will ply on the triangular route between Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle, on which the volume of traffic is increasing every year.

CREW OF DANISH FREIGHTER NELLY SAVED BY PILOTS

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Feb. 5.—Finnish pilot boats today succeeded in rescuing all of the crew of twenty of the Danish freighter Nelly, wrecked Sunday during a storm in the Gulf of Finland. Storms and gales hitherto have prevented rescue boats approaching. The Nelly was covered with ice when they finally reached her.

MAYOR SPEAKS AT FATHER AND SON GATHERING

Big Attendance at Banquet of Fairfield United Church Includes Two Ministers

RESPONSIBILITY OF YOUTH IS STRESSED

"Keep your word, and the keeping of it will be something which creates a tradition altogether above any monetary consideration," was the message given by Mayor Herbert Anscomb to some 200 banqueters at the Fathers and Sons gathering held at the Fairfield United Church last night.

A number of compliments were paid to the Victoria Boys' Band, which, under the directorship of Mr. G. H. E. Green, rendered a number of delightful selections. The entire affair was under the auspices of the Men's Club of the Fairfield United Church, of which Mr. J. Johnston is the secretary. Mr. A. Sturrock, president of the club, occupied the chair and a blessing was asked by Rev. H. Nixon, the pastor. The service was carried out by the Canadian Girls in Training, under the leadership of Miss Keef.

Community singing was conducted by Mr. Paddy Heaton, after which Douglas Nixon proposed a toast "to the Dads." This was responded to by Mr. A. C. Fields, who also proposed a toast to "the sons," to which B. Campbell replied. The chairman then called upon Mayor Anscomb to address the gathering.

MAYOR'S STATEMENT

His Worship said in part: "It is your privilege to be living in a country where you have every freedom and independence, and it is your duty to apply yourselves diligently to your studies, to fit yourselves for your responsibilities in your future lives. I am not going to suggest for one moment you have to do nothing but work and study—'all work and no play' is a very bad thing for anybody, but I do want to say that when you play, play with your whole heart and all your energy, and when you work, work in the same way.

"Every boy should take an active part in athletics. It is not good for any of you to be merely spectators. You learn lessons on the playing field which stay with you all your lives, the lessons of unselfishness, self-control, quickness to seize an opportunity, courage, teamwork and fair play, and also acquire a foundation of health and strength to fit you for the battle of life.

"May I just say a little on the prospects for our boys in this Dominion and more particularly in our own province.

MAGNET OF GREEN PASTURES

"Quite a lot has been said about the emigration of our youth to the country to the south. No matter how prosperous Canada may be, no matter how many openings there may be for a young man in his native city, you will always find boys who want to travel and see the world. This, in itself, is not of necessity a bad thing. It is good for young men to go out and see other lands, mix with other peoples and watch how they conduct their public and private business. There are thousands of Canadians all over the world, and some of them filling very responsible positions, but at the same time we need all of you here in Canada. It very often happens that young fellows cannot see the opportunities in their own home town until they have been away from it for a while. Of this I am certain, once a young man has had experience of other countries and has met with different peoples he gets a wider outlook on life and when he turns again to his native land—as he usually does—he makes an altogether better citizen.

"In our lumbering, forestry, agriculture, mining, fishing, the engineering problems which confront us in connection with the development of our natural resources and in the expansion of our shipping, transportation and commercial pursuits, we surely have a wealth of choice for any young man who wants to make his way in the world. Yes, we have an abundance of opportunities, and golden opportunities, too. I think every man will admit that this Dominion could maintain a population twenty times as great as we have today. With this in mind, we cannot imagine what changes the boys sitting here tonight will see before they reach three score years and ten.

STAY AT HOME

"Transportation facilities are developing so extensively that this world is getting a very small place, not small from the point of actual size, but small from the point that it takes such a short space of time to cover it. I suppose most of you boys take an interest in flying machines. Colonel Lindberg's spectacular flight across the Atlantic, airships which have also crossed the Atlantic, flights to the North and South Poles, flights to South Africa and India—all this is bringing the peoples of the earth closer together, and it all means that your own Dominion, your own province and your own city are, every day, getting within easier reach of other parts of the world and means that our business here will and must grow larger.

"The Pacific Coast, generally, is really just in its awakening and our commerce just in its infancy. Nowhere will you find better prospects for the future than right at your own door.

"Side by side with your education for a business or professional life, you older boys should be educating yourselves in public matters. In your history books you find the story of Canada's growth and progress; your are living history today and you will make it in the years to come, and to fit yourselves for the high positions some of you will have to fill before many years have flown, you must work and take an interest in all public events. In this, your fathers can help.

"To the fathers I would say, your children are just what you make them and I would remind you that 'authority is lost by bad example.' As the ancient Romans truly said: 'It is the duty of the father to accustom his son to act rightly of his own accord.' Be patient with your sons. Give them as much of your time as possible and I am quite sure they will grow up a credit to you and a credit to the city."

MINISTER SPEAKS

Hon. R. L. Maitland, minister without Portfolio, spoke of the inspiration to be gained from a fathers and sons banquet. "It is remarkable," he said, "that we grow up as soon as we do; and, when the sons of this audience become men—when, in fact, they have climbed up that old hill of time, they will realize that, if they are to be builders in life, it behooves them to make their work perfect, no matter how small or humble their particular job may be."

Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Mines, endorsed the remarks of the previous speaker and pointed out the opportunities which were offered to the youth of Canada. In British Columbia, he stated, there appeared to be more openings than could be found in the length and breadth of Canada. He concluded by emphasizing the fact that a father should teach his son that, so long as the son was doing what he conceived to be right, that same son was upon a par with any human being upon the earth.

The speeches were interspersed with an excellent programme, to which Mr. McMahon referred in his able moving of a vote of thanks. Major Watts was accompanist and "Yorkie," the ventriloquist, combined with B. Ritson and Mr. R. S. A. Jackson to provide an excellent entertainment.

NEW STATUS OF B.C. BODY IS APPROVED

Other resolutions passed by the convention were as follows: "That in view of the destruction of stock by dogs, provincial regulations for dog tax should be more rigidly enforced and more suitable dog tags provided."

"That all dairy cattle shipped from the district outside Fraser Valley restricted area, to another should be accompanied by a veterinary certificate showing that said animals are free of tuberculosis."

"That where veterinary inspection is being made in a given district, all dairy cattle in that district should be tested."

"That the Western Canada Freight Association be asked to reduce the minimum weight on bulls over one and under two years from 3,000 to 2,000 lbs."

RENTAL ON LANDS

"That rental of 15 cents per acre on leased provincial lands be reduced to compare more equitably with the Dominion rental of 2 cents, especially as said lands pay provincial taxes."

"That financial assistance be given veterinarians to establish where such services are at present unavailable, or else that present provincial veterinarians be transferred to central points where they could serve outlying districts more easily."

A resolution that "The Dominion Government be urged to re-enact an order-in-council providing free admission of breeding ewes from the United States during the months of September to November inclusive," provoked spirited debate, and was defeated by a substantial margin.

PIONEER WORK

President Mat Hassen, referred to the pioneer work done by the Stock Breeders' Association, whose directors had carried the whole burden of livestock promotion and improvement when the industry was young and scattered. Happily the good work performed by the early pioneers of the association increased the magnitude and importance of the livestock industry so that individual associations had to be formed from time to time to more intensively cater to the needs of its members.

The convention expressed gratitude to the Dominion and Provincial Governments for grants to the bull sale, and to the Minister of Agriculture and his deputy for assistance. Special mention was made of the services rendered by Dr. A. Knight, while acting as livestock commissioner. A welcome was extended to Dr. W. R. Gunn, who succeeded him in that office.

Hon. William Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture, and Mr. J. B. Munro, the deputy minister, both addressed the convention briefly. They pointed out that they had to consider that when they were dealing with the livestock industry they were dealing with one which had a $68,000,000 production value last year in British Columbia.

SATISFACTORY STATE

Reports presented by committee chairmen showed the livestock industry to be generally satisfactory. Mr. P. E. French, of Vernon, for the beef cattle committee, stated that the industry had enjoyed a good year, with good prices and good quality prevailing. He stated that good prices were obtained at the Winter Fair at Vancouver and last year's Kamloops bull sale.

Mr. George Sangster, Victoria, for the dairy cattle committee, reported good prices and several exportations to Alberta, which offered a promising market. Large sales had been made to Australia and the Orient.

The report of Secretary George Challenger, of Kamloops, dealt mainly with last year's bull sale and fat stock show, which was the most successful yet held, sales made totaling $48,673.

The Dominion beef grading policy was explained by Dr. R. A. McLoughry, who is in charge of that work.

The occasion was the distribution of prizes by the Lord Mayor at a London school for boys, shortly before his retirement from the civic chair.

In the course of a witty speech Sir Kynaston-Studd said that a former Lord Mayor used to carry a cat about with him an allusion, apparently, to Sir Richard Whittington.

"Instead of a cat," he continued, "I am accompanied today by a live cockerel;" and he pointed to the Lady Mayoress, who immediately gave a wonderfully ealistic imitation of a cockerel crowing, to the huge delight of the youngsters.

A successful business man was giving an address on "Commercial Acumen" to a class of students. In speaking of his career, he mentioned a certain company that had been wound up on account of its shady practices.

"Of course," he said righteously, "as soon as I realized there were possibilities of dishonest profit being made I got out of it."

"How much?" asked a student.

French Finances Stated to Be in Sound Condition

(Canadian Press Cable via Havas)

PARIS, Feb. 5.—Substantial reductions in the national debt in the past year, and gold holdings second only to those of the United States, enable France to face the year 1930 in a sound financial position, according to an outline of the financial situation given the Financial Committee of the Chamber of Deputies today by M. Henri Cheron, Minister of Finance.

The budget for 1930 calls for a total revenue of $1,982,600,888, with a prospective surplus of $1,260,000. The size of the surplus may be affected by changes in the French naval programme in consequence of the present Naval Disarmament Conference, and by unforeseen requirements under the social insurance scheme.

At present, M. Cheron pointed out, the Bank of France holds $32,713,200,000 in gold.

STRONG MAN TO RESCUE CHINA

Will Lead Nation From Turbulence to Paths of Prosperity, Says Ex-Emperor

TIENTSIN, China, Feb. 1.—From out the chaos of the present turbulent China will emerge a "strong man who will lead the nation into paths of prosperity and peace," in the opinion of Hsuan Tung, dethroned Emperor.

This opinion was expressed in an interview in which Hsuan Tung, now called simply Mr. Henry Pu Yi, told of his intimate hopes and fears for the China he believes will shake off its present lethargy.

Speaking through an interpreter, although he writes and speaks English fluently, he spoke of the prolonged strife in China and the miseries of the people. He referred bitterly to the selfishness that has actuated so many of the leaders. And then, laying down his cigarette, he said:

"The people of China want peace above all things today. They yearn for relief from the intolerable miseries inflicted upon them by prolonged civil wars; the profound disturbances; the threat to their ancient beliefs and practices; the raids and atrocities of bandits, and the exactions of the taxgatherers.

"Of course," he went on, "there must be changes. The world about us has changed and the people must change, too. We cannot go back. We must march on. But the situation seems to be growing worse instead of better. The people's happiness is gone.

"I am convinced that a strong man will emerge who will give the people peace, restore order, and begin the mighty task of rebuilding shattered China. In the past it always has been so; it must be so again in the future. I cannot predict when or how much longer the present struggle will continue. But a great leader will assuredly arise, and, if he brings peace, he will receive the people's full confidence and loyalty."

Hsuan Tung, who now lives a life of unostentation at the Japanese concession, has had vivid drama crowded into his twenty-four years of life.

Snatched from his cradle by the Empress Dowager in her dying hour, he is the last of the once powerful house of the Manchu dynasty. He became ruler on the death of the reformer Emperor Kwang Hsu, his uncle, who died without issue.

He came to the throne after two royal deaths within twenty-four hours of each other and when the Manchu dynasty was desperately trying to save itself by turning to the reformers. A few years later (1912) when still a boy, he was dethroned and the republic proclaimed.

Ejected from the forbidden city as a result of Yu-hsiang's "coup d'etat," he made an adventurous escape from Peking disguised as a youth of the lower middle classes, and safely reached Tientsin where he now is known simply as "Mr. Henry Pu Yi."

LONDON, Feb. 5.—The House of Commons today adopted a resolution calling for a commercial agreement between Great Britain and Soviet Russia soon. The resolution, introduced by Miss Ellen Wilkinson, Laborite, was passed 243 to 139. It read: "The Government should energetically explore avenues which will lead to increased trade with the Russian Soviet Republic, and that in order to put this trade on a stable basis, a commercial agreement should be arranged between the two countries at an early date."

ROEBUCK RULED UNSUITABLE TO FIGHT CARNERA

Boxing Commissioner Refuses to Allow Indian Heavyweight to Meet Italian Giant

BOUT WAS SLATED FOR TUESDAY

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 5.—State Boxing Commissioner Seneca O. Taylor today rejected Theodore "Tiny" Roebuck, Kansas City Indian boxer, as an opponent for Primo Carnera, Italian giant, in the latter's appearance at the Arena here next Tuesday night.

At a conference with Mique Malloy, Chicago promoter, who is bringing Carnera to St. Louis, Commissioner Taylor notified the matchmaker that Roebuck was unsatisfactory and would not be permitted to box the Italian here.

Roebuck, who could not be considered a dwarf in his proportions of six feet four inches and 230 pounds, was picked from a score of possibilities, Promoter Mique Malloy said. The Indian also has a one-round knockout of "Big Boy" Peterson, whom Carnera kayoed in his New York debut, to his credit.

One Barrel Was Not Enough for Joe

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

I have heard of ball players being traded for bird-dogs, neckties, ground-keepers, poker debts and groceries, but my old friend, George Huckabay, tells me that Joe Martina, pitcher of the Washington Senators in other days and old-time Texas and Southern league hurler, was released by the Dallas, Texas, team for two barrels of oysters.

Joe wanted his release, and the Dallas club countered with the "barrel of oysters" proposition. The Dallas sport writers, however, intervened and showed where Martina was worth at least two barrels to the club that season as a relief hurler.

Joe, who operates an oyster house in New Orleans, promptly dispatched the two barrels and is now a free agent.

The Dallas scribes' interest in the deal was not entirely altruistic, however, as they were given one of the barrels of shell food to celebrate the transaction.

RUETHER SOLD TO SEATTLE INDIANS

Foxy Southpaw of San Francisco Missions Bought by Sound City Squad

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—Walter "Dutch" Ruether, one of the foxiest pitchers ever to perform in the Coast League, will dispense his left-handed wares as a member of the Seattle Indians this season. His sale, as an outright cash deal, was announced here today by Wade "Red" Killifer, president-manager of the San Francisco Missions. After a long and notable career in the big leagues as a member of the Brooklyn Nationals and Washington, and New York Americans, Ruether returned to the Coast circuit in 1928, as a member of the San Francisco Seals.

He led the league with twenty-nine victories that season, and after a salary dispute with the Seal owners was sold to the Missions in the Spring of 1929.

With the Missions, Ruether failed to hit his stride and at the league meeting last month, Killefer announced he had given the southpaw permission to make a deal for himself.

The sale price was not announced. In his efforts to build up a winning club, Killefer now has added eleven new men to the payroll, and before departing from here said he would announce the names of four more players in the near future.

My Greatest Golfing Weakness and How I Corrected It

By PHIL PERKINS
Amateur Champion of Great Britain in 1928

(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

This is the seventh of a series of articles written by famous amateur and professional golfers. They overcame outstanding faults in their play.

Naturally I learned to play golf in England, as I was born and brought up there, and I learned to hit my drive like a Britisher. That is to say, I struck down at the ball, and found myself finishing the stroke with too much weight on the right foot.

This gave me a tendency to hit across the ball, especially on my drives, and anyone who plays knows what that does. Of course, I did play well enough to win the amateur championship, but my error persisted. It troubled me, but I didn't find the root of the trouble or the proper method of correcting it until I came to the United States last year.

It was my good fortune to play with your greatest golfers. I was in the final round of the National Amateur at Brae Burn against Bobby Jones, and I played Bobby, too, in the Walker Cup matches. Naturally, I watched him closely, and your other stars as well, and began to pattern my swing after them.

I found then what I had been doing. To correct my fault I got a deep-faced driver, and practiced hitting against my left leg, as the saying goes. I braced my left leg firmly before making the stroke, and found that this cured me of cutting across the ball.

This not only gave me better distance, but straightened my shots amazingly. The elimination of my habit of hitting down made me a sounder golfer. It removed a source of trouble that gave me a lot more difficulty than you'd imagine.

I know that many golfers—from those who shoot around 100 to the stars—have spells of cutting across the ball. Might I suggest that you—if you are one of the sufferers—follow my plan.

The fault of not found entirely on the tee, but crops up with the brassie and the irons as well, and does a lot toward adding unwelcome strokes.

It is really most difficult to learn what one is doing improperly. A professional can quickly point out what you are doing wrong. If you are erring as I did, I'm quite certain you can set yourself right.

It is an excellent practice to watch good golfers, not merely watch them, either, but study them closely. Bobby Jones was a source of great help to me. The stars you watch will doubtless benefit you, too, for the average human being is imitative.

So, I'll just repeat. If you are cutting across the ball, try hitting against a braced left leg, which will make sure than your weight comes through to it at the finish of your stroke. It must be there, you know, to hit properly.

Taking It on the Chin

The Hardest Sock I Ever Got

By SA MLANOFORD
(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

Harry Wills did it to me in Vernon, Cal., a suburb of Los Angeles, on November 23, 1914, in a scheduled twenty-round contest. Remember the date? I do. Fighting used to be my business. Yes sir, Wills hit me the hardest punch I ever got.

That same year I had boxed Harry in New Orleans. I was traveling light and he gave me a battle, though I shaded him. He was a tall, rangy, fast fellow with a good left and right, and very much at home in a warm climate.

Some months later I wound up in Los Angeles, "Uncle" Tom McCarey's town. "Uncle" Tom was a promoter who got his start in life the same way as Sam Harris, the man who discovered Terry McGovern. He drove a laundry wagon until he was struck by the happy thought that he could do better promoting prize fights.

"Uncle" Tom needed a holiday attraction, and I wasn't going to miss my Thanksgiving dinner if I could help it. Wills was in San Francisco, where he had made a hit bouncing around big Charlie Miller, giant motorman. "Uncle" Tom, who had a way with him, managed to get Wills to sign.

Coming out of a clinch in the first Wills dropped me for nine with a right uppercut. It was a honey. I got up only to go down again from another right to the jaw. I should have known better and stayed down the first time. Before the first round came to a weary end I had gone down three times.

I was down so often in the second that I thought the white canvas was my bed. I woke up along about the twelfth and patted Harry on his back. I had him ready to be taken in the thirteenth, but the gong interrupted. The bell clanged for the fourteenth and we both rushed to centre. I dropped Harry for nine with a right to the jaw. He got up and started to run away, but I caught him. Then I went back to Jack Doyle's cottage and had a duck dinner.

Man, I sure did enjoy that dinner!

Newsies Stage Rally In Second Half and Down Keating, 12-11

Newspapermen Overcome Four-Point Lead in Second Half to Emerge Victors—Birds Defeat Keating Ladies, 25-12—C.P.S. Go Under

In one of the best programmes of the leather-handling code presented to local fans this season, Colonist, men's "C," and Red Birds, women's "B," cage teams fought their way to the finals in their respective divisions of the City Basketball League last night at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium. The newsies staged a second-half rally and put Keating out of further competition when they finished on the right end of a 12-11 count, while the birds flew to victory over Keating by a 25-12 score. In the exhibition encounter, McCormick Lumber Co., representatives from Castle Rock, Wash., defeated Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Co. five, 27-20.

COLONIST DOWNS KEATING

The Colonist-Keating battle, and it was every bit a battle, stole the show. From the very first tip-off until the loud blast of Jack Taylor's whistle the teams traveled at a fast clip, checked heavily and threw everything into a cage game that kept a crowded gallery on its feet the whole distance.

Keating, first to score, when Ray Kersey sunk the leather on a foul shot, stayed out in front all the initial half, and when the much-desired rest interval arrived the suburbanites were on the long end of a 7-3 count.

Shortly after the resumption of the second half Radford dropped home a field basket and Eddie Rutledge followed up with the field goal that brought the score 7-7. Colonist took the lead for the first time after five minutes of play in the final half when Edgar Borde caged a free shot. Eddie Rutledge increased this lead to three points when he went up on the outside and scored a pretty field goal. Keating added a point to their total when R. Kersey found the hoop on a free shot, given as the fourth personal foul against Bob Stewart, Colonist guard, and the latter was forced to retire.

Five minutes from time the suburbanites came to within one point of their opponents when Steve Bates scored on another free shot. Colonist went right back, and Radford, centre for the newsies, dropped home the field goal that meant victory for his teammates. Keating called time here and rushed D. Bates on the court in an effort to pull the game out of the fire, and he almost did. On the floor less than fifteen seconds he scored a field goal and cut the newsies' lead to one point, which they held.

The teams:

RED BIRDS WIN

Turning in a more finished exhibition than their opponents, Bill Erickson's Red Birds flew to a 25-12 victory over Keating in a women's "B" cage battle. Holding a three-point lead at half time, the birds increased this advantage as the game progressed.

The teams:

Red Birds—T. Rennie (8), B. Peden (13), K. Wellburn, B. Edwards (4), D. Lea, B. Boyce, M. Wilson, K. Atherton and M. Motion.

C.P.S. DEFEATED

Playing a fast, open game, McCormick Lumber Company meted out a 27-20 defeat to the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Company in the final game. The visitors excelled in long shots and presented a five-man attack and defence which, at times, had the locals bewildered. Holding a seven-point lead at half-time, when the score stood 16-9 in their favor, the visitors ended the fixture with the same advantage.

Moses, Bates and Hobson, particularly the latter, dropped home some pretty baskets, and some from awkward angles.

C.P.S. staged a determined rally in the early stages of the second half, and came within one point of the visitors, but this was the closest they ever came.

The teams:

McCormick Lumber Company—Carnine (2), Moses (9), Bates (7), Hobson (7), Anderson (2) and Harris.

C.P.S.—Butler, Martin (4), Viggers, Skillings (9), C. Bissell (2), Davis (2), Wooldridge, Fagerberg (1) and D. Bissell (2).

Alan Le Marquand refereed all games.

CHANGES MADE

President Jack Taylor announced last night that the Axioms-Red Birds women's "B" tussle, slated for the High School gymnasium tomorrow night, has been postponed until next Wednesday. West Road and Y.M.C.A. men's "B" teams will replace the women's game on Friday night's card.

HOLDOUTS NOT WORRYING CUBS

All Players Turn In Contracts for 1930 Season — Several Increases in Pay Reported

WRIGLEY SET ON WINNING PENNANT

CHICAGO, Feb. 5. — William Wrigley's Cubs, victims of a few undesired records in their recent world series, skirmish with the Athletics, have established somewhat of a different record in signing their 1930 contracts. Instead of giving Owner Wrigley, President William Veeck and Manager Joe McCarthy several financial and managerial headaches by becoming high-class holdouts, as is the custom of players on most championship clubs, every Cub has signed his contract without delay.

Even Hack Wilson, who year after year has played the holdout role, admittedly for sparring purposes, came through with his signature in record time.

Although Veeck refuses to give out salaries for public knowledge, it is known the big reason for the lack of holdouts among the Cubs is due to substantial increases in pay for the more important members of the National League championship cast. Wilson is believed to have received a contract calling for $25,000, a good increase over 1929, while Charlie Root, Guy Bush and Pat Malone, aces of the pitching staff, also will draw better pay envelopes.

Wrigley, who regularly turns down directors' meetings in his various business enterprises to watch his team play, has his heart set not only for another National League flag, but for another chance to win the world's championship, preferably at the expense of the self-same Athletics. His spirit is shown in the players, too, and all confess they do not want to lose any time getting ready for that chance by holdout actions.

TORONTO LEAFS TO SELL TWO PLAYERS TO NEW YORK TEAM

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 5.—A number of Maple Leaf players may be sold to other clubs in the National Hockey League, it was announced today. Art Smith, stocky defence man, and Eric Pettinger, forward, are said to be slated for the ranks of the New York Rangers. The deals are expected to be consummated shortly.

Take Club Back Very Slow for Balance

By SOL METZGER

Don't overswing or don't swing too rapidly in taking the club back, might well be the motto "Jimmy" Johnston follows in playing an explosion. Either fault would tend to spoil the shot. Remember that you cannot gain power in taking back the niblick any more than you can cause a gun to shoot with greater velocity by some trick of cocking the trigger.

The niblick requires the same nicety of balance and timing for successful exploding as does the putter for holing out or the driver for long wallops on a line for the pin. In short, don't rush the shot, as most of us do because of anxiety. In other words, concentrate on what you intend doing.

In the next article let us examine Abe Mitchell's way of blasting from a sand trap.

Superstition About Wearing New Uniforms in World's Series Shattered by Cubs in Tilts With Athletics

The world series between the Athletics and Chicago Cubs shattered one of the oldest superstitions in baseball. That involved the jinx of wearing brand new uniforms in the classic.

When the objection to the new diamond apparel became known, Hornsby, Wilson and Company gave assurances that they would much rather play in the duds that had been sun-kissed and worn. The players' edict was respected.

A dry-cleaning achieved the desired effect and the Cubs opened the series in their toil-worn raiment. Eventually it became plain to everyone that the potential charm of old uniforms probably failed to impress for two reasons—Grove and Walberg.

In 1928 the St. Louis Cardinals besought the fates with the same futile result. They had lost the first two games in the world series to the Yankees at New York. Upon the resumption of the series at St. Louis the men of McKechnie donned their regular season garb, but old Kid Kismet decided to string along with the Yankees on the theory that the victors are the fellows who sprinkle the most runs across the platter.

Many pennant-winning managers refuse to let their teams pose in groups for photographs just before a world series. Stanley Harris and Bill McKechnie, bosses of Washington and Pittsburgh, respectively, in 1926, informed the photographers that the customary group picture could not be snapped till the big series closed.

In 1909, however, Hughey Jennings allowed the Detroit Tigers to be "shot" at Forbes Field the day before the first game. The Tigers lost the series, but the click of the camera was not the jinx as much as our failure to focus on Babe Adams, who set us back three times.

Yet superstition has a place in competitive sports, particularly in baseball. The player uses it as something to hide behind. Thus it gives him a chance to dodge the blame by attaching it to something else, when the breaks are going against him. It serves the purpose till a player or a club regains normal form.

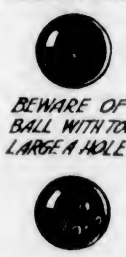
LESSONS IN BOWLING

THE BALL SMITH USES 16 lb. BLACK MINERALITE



BEWARE OF BALL WITH TOO LARGE A HOLE!

Answered by JIMMY SMITH

Three times winner in all events of the American Bowling Congress. Famed for his ability to control a curved ball.

Each bowler should make up his mind once for all what type of ball is best for him to use and then use no other. Personally I use a black mineralite No. 16 in weight. I like such a ball better than a mottled ball which has a higher finish and does not curve as readily.

Wins Ottawa Dog Derby

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 5.—Emile St. Goddard, of The Pas, Manitoba, today won the International Dog Derby. He led the way in the final day's run of the three-day event.

St. Goddard finished the 100-mile event with a total elapsed time of 8 hours 13 minutes 23 seconds, for a lead of 20 minutes and 12 seconds over Earl Brydges, of Cranberry Portage.

Earl Brydges won second money of $400 with a lead of only 45 seconds over Leonhard Seppala, Alaska. The two staged a thrilling last-minute dash to the finishing point, hampered by the thousands of people who lined the route.

St. Goddard won $1,000 cash prize and the Chateau Laurier Challenge Cup by taking first place. It was the twenty-four-year-old musher's ninth victory in an important dog derby.

Jokers, winners of the first half of the Fivepin League, continued to set the pace in the second half by taking two games from Spencer's Diamonds last night on the Arcade Alleys. Quarter-Finals Of U. S. Indoor Doubles Reached

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—This was "doubles day" in the national indoor championships at the Seventh Regiment Armory, all singles play being postponed until tomorrow to give the doubles field a chance to narrow down to the quarter-finals.

When the firing was over the four seeded teams, consisting of Francis T. Hunter, New Rochelle, N.Y., and Harold Throckmorton, New York; Gilbert Hall and Kenneth Appel, South Orange, N.J.; Merritt Cutler and Perrine Rockafellow, New York; and Harris Coggeshall, Des Moines, Iowa, and Richard Murphy, Utica, N.Y., the Harvard pair, stood triumphant among the eight surviving teams.

Hall and Appel looked impressive in bowling over Weller B. Evans and W. Dickson Cunningham, former Princeton and Yale players, respectively, by scores of 6-2, 6-2, in the second round. The Jersey boys stand out as strong contenders, although Hunter and Throckmorton are seeded ahead of them.

Eligibility of Hoop Teams to Be Decided Saturday

VANCOUVER, Feb. 5.—Eligibility of Vancouver and District League basketball teams for the Lower Mainland, Provincial and Dominion playdowns will be fought out Saturday afternoon, according to latest reports. The executive of the Lower Mainland Basketball Association will hold a meeting to consider the application of the Vancouver and District League for admission to the association.

Secretary A. Riley, of the Lower Mainland Association, announced last Wednesday that the Vancouver and District League would not be eligible for the playdowns, due to failure to pay fees by December 31. The fees are in now, however, and the eligibility question will be settled Saturday afternoon.

BRITISH NET ACE DEFEATS TILDEN

E. C. Peters Downs American Champion in Straight Sets at Riviera Tournament

CANNES, France, Feb. 5.—"Big Bill" Tilden, American tennis champion, was beaten today by E. C. Peters, sixth ranking British player, in one of the biggest upsets ever witnessed on the Riviera. The match was decided in straight sets at 9-7, 8-6.

"Big Bill" began the first set by losing three straight games. Peters was playing hard, using good court craft, and took the set through perfect drives that split the lines. Tilden began the second set unruffled and succeeded in winning his service games, while Peters also took his own until the count was six-all. Then Tilden seemed to blow up, outing and netting Peters' returns continually.

Tennis followers here concluded that Peters, as he played today, could have beaten any player on the Riviera except Cochet.

Tilden later returned to the court and, paired with Cecilie Aussem, of Germany, defeated Mr. and Mrs. Tottenham in the first round of the mixed doubles at 6-1, 6-3.

Busting Into Baseball

"How I Broke Into the Major Leagues"

By EARL B. COMBS
(As told to John F. McCann)

A booming home run off my bat the first time I faced a major league pitcher marked the beginning of my big league career—but that's a little ahead of my actual start in the game, which came about in a somewhat mysterious way.

I was playing amateur ball around Lexington, Ky., in 1921, and somebody unknown to me induced Cap Neal, of the Louisville American Association team, to come down to look me over. Neal did come to Lexington and immediately signed me to a contract.

When I joined the Louisville Colonels I didn't expect to stay, but thought they'd farm me out for experience. Shortly after the season opened, however, Outfielder Massey took sick and Manager Joe McCarthy, who was winning pennants for Louisville then, put me in the game.

"Early," he said. "Massey's sick and you'll have to get out there."

I went to centre field and was never taken out after that day, playing that position with the Colonels until 1923, when Bob Connery, scout of the New York Yanks, put through a deal with Louisville which sent me to the big league.

My first chance with the Yanks happened in a Spring training game with the Brooklyn team at Pensacola. The Yanks and Brooklyn hooked up a thirteen-inning game that day when the late Manager Miller Huggins sent me in to pinch hit in the thirteenth with the score tied. Al Mamaux was in the box for Brooklyn, and it was my first trip to the plate against a major league pitcher.

"Go up there and hit one," Huggins casually said to me, "and I knocked out a home run, winning the game. That homer got me off right and I've been with the Yanks ever since."

UNIVERSITY SCHOOL AND OAK BAY HIGH XV'S PLAY TODAY

The first game for the possession of the Russell Rugby Cup, a trophy donated some time ago by friends in memory of the late Professor Howard Russell, will be played at the grounds of the University School, Mount Tolmie, at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, between Oak Bay High School and Victoria High School.

This cup is offered to the high schools of the district of Victoria through the Rugby Union by a group of colleagues and students, who wished to commemorate the name of Professor E. Howard Russell, who taught in Victoria for twenty-eight years, and who both played and fostered the game.

The age limit of boys making up the competing teams is restricted, under the terms of the trophy, to from fifteen to eighteen years, the weight to be less than 150 pounds.

MRS. HIGBIE BEATEN IN SOUTHERN GOLF

Detroit Star Defeated One Up—Mrs. Pressler Continues to Advance

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 5.—Mrs. H. J. Higbie, Detroit, today was eliminated in the third round of the Southern California midwinter women's golf tournament when her opponent, Mrs. C. L. Woener, Los Angeles, shot a birdie four on the eighteenth to win 1 up.

Mrs. Leona Pressler, Los Angeles, California champion and runner-up to the national open title last year, continued her victorious parade by defeating Miss Helen Lawson, Los Angeles, 5 and 4.

The hardest struggle of the round was staged by Mrs. Gregg Lifur, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Roy Green, Los Angeles, with the latter winning on the twenty-first hole.

In the only other match, Mrs. B. V. Gottlieb, Los Angeles, formerly of New York, defeated Mrs. F. M. Slade, Los Angeles, 3 and 2. Friday's finals will be played over the thirty-six-hole route.

CARNERA TO SHOW AGAIN TONIGHT

Ambling Alp to Take on Cowboy Billy Owens at Newark in Scheduled Ten-Round Go

NEWARK, N.J., Feb. 5.—Back from the stormy atmosphere of Chicago, Primo Carnera, Italian "Ambling Alp," will display his size and prowess before Newark's fight fans tomorrow night in a ten-round bout with Cowboy Billy Owens, of Oklahoma. Just what the result will be, no one dares to predict. The principal result of Carnera's invasion of the West was an invasion which resulted in the decision the Italian giant's size had frightened his opponent, Elzear Rioux, into a forty-seven-second knockout.

Owens has a record which is little, if any, better than that of Rioux, but it is reported more than Carnera's towering bulk will be needed to put him down for the count.

Cochran Widens Lead Over Otto Reiselt

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Welker Cochran, of Hollywood, former 18.2 balkline billiards champion, registered a slight gain over Otto Reiselt, of Philadelphia, in the three-cushion match today, although they divided the fifth and sixth blocks.

Cochran won the afternoon block 50 to 40, in fifty innings, but Reiselt took tonight's meeting by a 51-50 margin in forty-four innings. The division brought them to the halfway mark of the match with Cochran leading 300 to 276. Cochran had a high run of eight this afternoon to Reiselt's five. Each had seven for his best cluster in the night block.

Bulls Hindered by Profit Taking but Prices Go Up On Large Trade Turnover

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—A display of bull pyrotechnics mildly reminiscent of old times gave the stock market its first 4,000,000 share day in 1930 today. Stocks were taken in blocks of 5,000 to 16,000 shares, and ticker delays of quarter of an hour were common. Important shares generally rose one to five points, but the bull crowd was hampered by profit taking and upward progress was rather strenuous work.

Credit conditions eased a little today, call money getting down to 4 per cent, after renewals at 4½.

The weekly steel trade reviews reported brisk picking up of activity, which Iron Age described as "A snapping back of demand to a level in keeping with actual consumption."

Utilities were again pronouncedly buoyant. American Locomotive sagged below 95 to a new 1930 low on rumors of a reduction of the dividend, but closed at 100, up three, on official denials. Gillette was depressed and closed (+) 2½.

Foreign exchanges were quiet, with European currencies steady to firm. Sterling cables closed at 4.85 7-16, up fourteen. The Latin-Americans were again heavy.

All sections of the bond market closed higher, the average showing the largest gain in a month. Volume of trading was not particularly imposing, but the list responded readily to buying orders, and it was apparent that the effect of the enormous amount of new financing done in January was wearing off.

Bankers Say Cigarettes Are To Be Dearer

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Well-informed bankers expressed the view, yesterday, that an increase in the wholesale price of the popular brands of cigarettes is imminent. The opinion was said to have been based on information from sources within the tobacco companies interested. No confirmation was obtainable, however, in official circles. The increase in price, it was said, would be 35 to 40 cents a thousand cigarettes, making the new price $6.75 to $6.80 a thousand, compared with $6.40 at present.

WHEAT STRONG WITH CHANGE IN SENTIMENT

Local and Commission House Buying Sends Prices Up in Chicago Market

CO-OPERATIVES ARE BUYING CASH WHEAT

(B.C. Bond Corporation, Ltd.)

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—Wheat was strong on local and Commission House buying induced by a marked change in sentiment and reports that the Provincial Governments had notified the banks that they would guarantee any advances made to the Canadian Pool. The bulge brought in profit taking and also some local pressure, and a reaction to below yesterday's finish followed.

Cables from abroad reported a cargo of Russian wheat sold to the United Kingdom with ten thousand tons arriving at Hamburg unsold. Liverpool was firm early on strength in North America, and on firm offers of cash grain from North America, but eased from the best figures and closed 1-2 to 5-8 higher.

Buenos Aires was 1 3-8 to 1 5-8 lower at midday, the decline in exchange rate having some effect. Crop comments were generally favorable. Export demand at seaboard was slow with sales of 300,000 bushels in all positions, mainly Manitobas. Co-operatives continue to buy cash wheat at the Farm Board Loan figures.

Corn prices held within narrow limits with bulk of trade of a local character. Decline in wheat had some effect. Country offerings were not large with the spot basis firmer. Shipping demand fair. Buenos Aires was 3-8 to 1-2 cent lower at midday.

Oats reflected the action of other grains to a large extent. Rye prices averaged somewhat lower with a moderate trend.

Watch the paper for notice of call on your—bonds.

Watch for the notice of call on any callable bonds that you may hold.

The bonds of many corporations, governments, and municipalities are made subject to "call" or redemption before their actual maturity to redeem its bonds, they cease to bear interest after the date of call, and if the investor is not aware of their redemption, he will lose this interest.

Advance notice of such redemptions are placed in the newspapers when a corporation intends to call its issue, with the date of call and other information, and often the company notifies its registered bondholders. Investment houses usually notify their customers also.

If such a redemption is announced, you should have your bonds retired and promptly reinvest the money. If the notice of the call escapes your notice, you will not discover that it has been made until you try to cash your coupons at the next interest date, when the yield for that period will have been lost.

BID FOR GERMAN MOTOR BUSINESS

GENERAL MOTORS MAKING INTENSIVE DRIVE WITH LOW-PRICED CARS

Encouraging Steel Reports Help Make Improved New York Market Conditions

(Christy, Hall & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—In looking into the motor situation, General Motors in particular, activities in Germany will bear watching. The former leading motor company, General Motors, is making an intensive drive for German and nearby territory sales with a new line of low priced cars from the Opel Works in Russelheim. The price of the model is approximately $300 below Opel's previous cheapest car and is nearly 50 per cent below the present price of the Ford made in Germany.

The backbone of the recent turn in market conditions was found in the very encouraging steel reports helped by a changed condition in demand by the automotive companies. The U. S. Steel Corporation ingot production is now about 80 per cent of capacity, according to the steel journals this week. This is a gain of 3 per cent over a week ago and a total increase of 13 per cent in the past three weeks. Independents are now at 73 per cent against 70 per cent last week and 64 per cent two weeks ago. With evidence of expansion in the key industries it is within reason to believe that the market will take its cue from such satisfactory conditions.

It is logical to expect copper stocks to become very prominent in the upswing very shortly. The producers have proven they have the situation well in hand and it is not likely that there will be any price cuts this quarter. The good coppers harbor the largest short interest remaining in any group, a recent survey in one of the big copper stocks showed a short interest of over half a million shares. The move may synchronize with a bullish study of the copper situation to be released by Babson.

STATEMENT BY BRACKEN HAS BULL EFFECT

COARSE GRAIN MART REFLECTS WEAKNESS

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

WINNIPEG, Feb. 5.—Wheat: A statement made by Premier Bracken in the Manitoba Legislature last night that the Governments of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta had come to the aid of the Canadian wheat pool by guaranteeing the banks against loss for money advanced in the handling of this season's crop, was the main feature in the market this morning. The statement at first was construed as rather bullish, and during the first part of the market session there was some buying by commission houses and a certain amount of short covering on the part of the trade. This caused an upward turn in prices of about one cent, but the market quickly drifted into a quiet affair with very little doing and no outside interest shown and no buying by exporters as business overnight was again very small, and what was worked was done by the pool and was not reflected locally and prices drifted lower getting one cent under the previous close.

The fact that the pool has been forced to apply to the three Prairie Governments for assistance was taken as evidence that the pool were in a tight financial situation with the banks pressing for repayment, the latter seeing little hope of immediate improvement unless foreign demand improved materially of which there is no present indications.

The cash market continued extremely dull with offerings light and demand indifferent. Wheat export sales had been very small and there was no foreign demand for flour. Foreign advices stated that Russia was again selling wheat and offering both wheat and rye liberally. The situation is most unusual, with heavy supplies in North America for which there is a very poor demand, and the trade generally appears to be at sea.

Coarse grains: The weakness in wheat was again reflected in the coarse grains, especially rye, with scattered liquidation in evidence. There was practically nothing doing in the cash market except an occasional odd car lot.

Advance Will Go On Today Says Whitney

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Whitney, of Wall Street, says: The relatively moderate selling which appeared in the market in the final half hour of today's session should be welcomed as providing an opportunity to purchase stocks at slightly below today's best levels for a continuation of the current advance which shows no signs of culmination. Reduction in the Bank of England rate, which it is expected will be announced before the opening, should be accepted as a forecast of a reduction in the New York rediscount rate, either today or in the very near future. While reduced rates in these two centres were of no prime importance other than from the psychological standpoint, I believe they will be accorded a fairly enthusiastic reception by the stock market.

Rails have not as yet confirmed the action of the industrials, but I believe that there is no doubt but that they will. In the meantime, the industrial group, with the help of the utilities, now that it has substantially overcome the December top, is engaged in a movement which will, in the near future, wipe out the November top.

Despite the fact that, industrially, the steel industry is one of the brightest spots and that in that industry United States Steel is giving the best performance, the stock is behind the market to the extent that it has not recaptured its December top. I expect this observation to be nullified quickly and therefore recommend the purchase of United States Steel now. Western Union is scheduled for a price of approximately 235 and likewise the five-for-one split-up, which was about to be acted upon when the October-November break arrived. Continue the purchase of American Waterworks and add as a purchase Standard Gas & Electric. The former has an objective of approximately 120 and the latter 140. Houston Oil has finally disclosed itself. Whether or not additional buying is done at this time is immaterial, the important thing is to refrain from selling. As previously advised, Dupont is recommended. Consolidated Gas, while at a new top for this year, is still sufficiently far from its objective to warrant a continuation of the buying recommendation. In the more medium-priced issues pay particular attention to Internal Combustion preferred stock while it is obtainable in the 50's, to Standard Brands while it remains below 30, to United Carbon below 55, Reynolds "B" below the same figure and Hudson within the range of 60 to 65. On the curb continue with Electric Bond & Share, which has, I believe, an additional twenty points in it, or possibly as much as forty, and with International Utilities "A," which could easily add 50 per cent to its present price without being overvalued.

NO DRY HOLES IN OKLAHOMA FIELD

(Christy, Hall & Co., Ltd.)

The following wire has been received from the Cities Service Company, New York, in connection with its subsidiary in the Oklahoma Field: "Indian territory has forty-one subsidiaries in Oklahoma City field with no dry holes to date. These forty-one wells average better than 9,000 barrels each. One hundred and one more wells are drilling. New York papers this morning carry story purchase of holdings of Foster Petroleum Company in this field by Doherty interests."

Broadening the Bond Field

To invest in a bond or bonds under the Deferred Payment Plan is practically identical with the same purchase for cash, except that instead of paying the full price at once, the initial payment is but 10%. Payment of the balance is arranged to meet the client's requirements.

This, as can be readily seen, opens the Bond Savings to any person, either of small or large incomes.

Operations at New York Stimulated by Carloadings, Steel and Crude Oil Figures

(Branson, Brown & Co., Ltd.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—The market today contrasted with that of yesterday in that the latter, while bullish in tone, did nothing more than hold its own at recovered levels. Today, however, operations were stimulated from the start by the upturn in carloadings figures and the curtailment reported in crude oil production, also the continued increase in steel operations. The turnover was at a record rate for this year and the net gains for the day were close to 2 points for the representative trading issues.

The money situation has become an encouraging factor to the speculating fraternity. The call rate was reduced to 4 per cent and there is believed to be a possibility that the Federal Reserve here will reduce the rediscount rate. Such action would be regarded as stimulating to the security market. Much depends, of course, upon the action of the Bank of England in regard to its rate. Some announcement is due tomorrow and the recent revision downward of the Reichsbank rate is regarded as an influence in like direction by the English banking authorities.

On the other hand, the New York Federal Reserve may be restrained in its action by Washington's attitude. The news of the day contained several constructive items, such as better than expected automobile sales in Illinois for January, with several makes of cars, notably Chevrolet, scoring gains over the same period of 1929. Also it was said that Allis Chalmers January sales were a record. Iron Age also appeared with an optimistic tone regarding the steel business. It also was said that sales of export copper yesterday represented one of the best day's business for the past several months. Domestic demand was reported as continuing to improve. The weight of development seems unquestionably on the bull side and our recommendation to buy the seasoned active issues still holds.

Tape Topics

There was great activity on the New York Exchange yesterday, firm advances being made in steels, utilities and oils, Houston Oil leading the way in the latter section after opening at 64 3-8, making its high for the day at 69 3-8 and closing at 68 1-2. All the averages were up, industrials being up 3.58, rails .90, and utilities up 1.28. The volume of business continues to grow, the total shares changing hands numbering 4,356,100.

On The Iron Age optimistic prediction that steel was in a very much better position as far as production goes, U.S. Steel advanced to 185 1-4, closing at 184 5-8, while Bethlehem Steel advanced to 102, which was its price at the close of the market. On the curb board American Superpower displayed very considerable movement, with very little advance in price, but Electric Bond & Share, which was also greatly active, rose from 95 1-2 to 99, closing at 98 7-8.

Arkansas Natural Gas also went up from 12 3-8 to 14 1-4, displaying, on a large turnover, much activity during the trading. This fact seems to show that the public is taking a greater interest in utility services which market natural gas and petroleum by-products. The call rate was reduced to 4 per cent, and it is considered likely that the Federal Reserve Bank will reduce the rediscount rate, which action would be regarded as stimulating to the security market.

In a quiet local oils market yesterday, which was of much the same character and scope as on the previous day, little demand being in evidence, A.P.C. did most of the business, opening at $2.05 and closing at $2.03-$2.05, the high being $2.05 and the low $2, with the last sale at $2.05. Next in demand was United, which opened at 91c, all the ensuing sales being at 90c, with 89c-90c quoted at the close.

The opening price of Home was $10, $9.75-$9.90 being the closing figures. The high was $10 and the low $9.75. Mill City opened at 87c, touched 81c and closed at 82c-83c. Calmont, from $1.72 at the opening, went to $1.78 and closed stronger, with the last sale at $1.80, the final figures being $1.72-$1.75. Sterling Pacific went back from 55c to 50c, the closing price being 45c-50c.

With no improvement being shown in the price of silver it is not surprising that some of the British Columbia mines, whose product contains a considerable proportion of this metal, are not making headway on the boards. Few sales were recorded in the local mines market yesterday. Grandview sold around 11 1-4, closing at 11 1-4c-12c. Premier opened at $1.50 and closed at $1.49-$1.50. Noble Five, opening at 35c, closed at 23c-26c, and Pend Oreille was the medium of a few transactions, the opening price being $3.60, $3.40 being touched, with $3.40-$3.50 quoted at the close.

The most active mining stocks on the Toronto Exchange were International Nickel, Noranda, Teck Hughes and Amulet, all of which finished stronger than at the close, showing advances. Nickel, from its opening price of $39 rose quickly to $40.50, closing at $40.10-$40.25. Noranda went from $41.75 to $43.75, this figure being the high, with the last sale at $43 and the closing prices $42.95-$43. Teck Hughes opened at $6.30, had a final sale at $6.50 and closed at $6.45-$6.50. Amulet, from $1.75, advanced consistently and closed at $1.82-$1.83.

ORE SHIPMENTS

VANCOUVER, Feb. 5.—Report of the harbormaster at Tacoma as to the amount of British Columbia ore shipped to Tacoma Smelter, shows that during 1929 ore from British Columbia to the amount of 218,037 tons was shipped to Tacoma. The value of the ore was $14,094,572.

Statement of the monthly ore shipments which reach Tacoma, shows that British Columbia supplied more than 42 per cent of all the ore treated at the smelter.

Work Proceeding On Northern Light Of Premier Border

(Meharey, Roe & Co., Ltd.)

Work is proceeding on the Northern Light property of the Premier Border Gold Mining Company under direction of Mr. Angus McKenzie, superintendent. During the past year 1,600 feet of tunneling and a few hundred feet of surface work have been done. One definite porphyry zone was encountered at 1,283 feet and another about 200 feet further in. Development will be carried on along the porphyry zones by underground tunneling and by diamond drilling. Diamond drill stations were cut recently, and drilling was to proceed at once. The property is owned outright, and there are reported to be funds on hand for development.

Ore is being developed on the Wright Hargreaves property faster than milling facilities can handle it, and the intersection of ten feet of very high-grade ore on the north vein at a depth of 3,000 feet in diamond drilling suggests that still further expansion of ore reserve is about to be realized. The south vein on the 2,000-foot level is furnishing $40 values also across ten feet. The present recovery of around $10 per ton on the 560-ton daily basis could be easily stepped up at any time by development ore. It appears safe to assume that production will be stepped up by at least 200 tons per day during the present year, and that dividends will be resumed as soon as a comfortable surplus has been attained.

NEW YORK SUGAR

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Raw sugar was unchanged early today, but the undertone was a little steadier with buyers showing more interest. Sales were reported of 10,000 bags of Porto Rican afloat to a local refiner at 3.58. 21,000 bags of Philippines for February-March shipment to an operator at 3.64.

Refined was unchanged, with second hands available at around 5.15 and refiners listing at 5.20. Withdrawals were of fair proportions but new business continued light.

De Soto Straight Eight

An entirely new De Soto straight eight is being introduced today in Victoria by The Motor House, 971 Yates Street, local dealers for the De Soto line of motor cars.

The new straight eight motor, with cylinders cast en bloc, is of the L-type, with a bore of 2 7-8 inches, a stroke of four inches, an N.A.C.C. horsepower rating of 26.45 and develops seventy-two horsepower. The piston displacement is 207.7 cubic inches. The engine has rubber insulated suspension. There is full force-feed lubrication to all crankshaft, camshaft and connecting rod bearings, and a spray under pressure from small metered holes in connecting rod bearings lubricates the cylinders.

One of the most distinctive new features is the De Soto designed body which permits greater length, with an all-around roominess. With its mono-piece body, the De Soto straight eight is perfectly quiet and, of course, has that additional factor of safety due to its lower centre of gravity and unified construction. The shock-resisting qualities and sturdiness of the body guard against the possibility of injury to passengers in case of accident. As an additional safety measure, running boards are of heavy gauge steel.

The chassis has semi-elliptic springs, mounted on rubber supports at each end, requiring no lubrication and giving perfect roadability.

SEVEN BODY STYLES

There will be seven body styles in the new De Soto straight eight; A roadster, a phaeton, four-door sedan, de luxe sedan, business coupe, de luxe coupe and a convertible coupe with folding top. With the exception of the latter, all closed cars are equipped with slanting windshields, affording ventilation through a crank-operated mechanism. Additional ventilation is obtained by flush-type side cowl ventilators. Both open types have folding windshields as standard equipment.

NEW INDUSTRY SEEKS REVIVAL OF LOST CRAFT

OTTAWA VALUES THE DISCOVERIES

By WILFRID EGGLESTON

(Special to The Colonist. Copyright, 1930)

OTTAWA, Feb. 5.—Out in Vancouver Island there is writing on the rocks—picture writing. Nobody alive knows what it means. Much of it lies in inaccessible places. Where hardly one passing traveler a month casts eye on it. Some of it lies at the mercy of the wind and the wave, boulders, picnickers, loggers, railway builders and ditch diggers.

Everyone has heard of the totem pole, but few have heard of this mural art, not so much decorative as historical; once of the utmost importance to a tribe of prehistoric Indians, now neglected, overgrown with lichen, doomed, unless someone takes care of it, to pass into oblivion.

RELICS OF PRIMITIVES

Yet it means as much, perhaps, to Canadian archaeology as the ruins of a Celtic temple or the rock heap of Stonehenge means to the British Isles. And at least one man in Canada means to see that future generations of Canadians shall not lose this and other relics of a primitive people.

That man is the Dominion Archaeologist. If you take the elevator in the Victoria Memorial Museum and then turn to your right you come to his office. If you can get in, you find yourself in the midst of a confusion of totem poles, drawings of Indian art, casts of Indian stone carvings, beasts' heads, Indian photographs, slides, albums, notebooks, and a chaos of other things.

Archaeologists are popularly supposed to be erudite men who know everything about archaeology and nothing about anything else. But Canada's archaeologist, whose only peculiarity is that he does not like his name broadcast far and wide, breaks all precedent. He is passionately concerned with the application of pre-historic Indian art to present Canadian life. He would like to see in the gardens where concrete walls and stone flags are laid between the beds an occasional slab which perpetuates for all time this mysterious sculpture of the Vancouver Island Indian—a square of bas-relief work to come on unexpectedly as one treads about the gardens.

He would like to see in the parks of Ottawa, at Jasper, set significantly on a prominent knoll of the Prairies—huge concrete casts of dinosaurs. People seldom come to browse around museums, but these stone replicas would irresistibly carry them back to the fabulous young days of Canada when these beasts of gigantic proportions prowled and did battle on this continent.

FINE COLLECTION

The collection of prehistoric Indian art at Victoria Memorial Museum—the National Museum of Canada—is one of the finest in the world. It is full of designs that might be duplicated or adapted in scores of industries. But the sad truth is that these are not being used, and other countries are profiting. Many tourists are being sold imitations made in Japan.

There is no need for tourists coming to Canada to be deceived in what they buy. It may not be possible to find Indians who will carve the totem poles. The art has almost disappeared, the museum authorities say. Hardly a living Indian soul retains the ancient art. Those who do carve totem poles make only burlesques of the old and true forms.

But casts can be made from the genuine article in the National Museum, and then there will be no need to fear tourist wrath. Just as every art gallery would rather have a plaster cast of the real Venus de Milo than a copy made by a poor artist, so every lover of Canadian primitive and prehistoric art would rather have an exact replica of an ancient totem pole or soapstone dish than a crude copy made by an indifferent workman in Japan.

Coast Indians had cedar chests, and the Dominion archaeologist showed me today a magnificent one cleverly made out of three pieces of wood, the four sides being made of a single long, broad plank cut and bent at the corners. It probably once held the fine raiment of a Queen Charlotte Indian, and an Indian artist had filled the whole of one side with beautiful totem pole designs in black and red pigment over the wood carving. The Dominion archaeologist has made a plaster cast of this carving, and has been told that with two pillars of similar design it will make a striking panel for a fireplace.

Who will make these new souvenirs and panels, flagstones and totem poles? Why not returned soldiers? asks the Dominion archaeologist. Vetcraft shops have provided employment for scores of handicapped ex-service men. A drive is on in 1930 to put the Canadian souvenir trade on a new active basis, and Colonel Lafleche and the Canadian Legion, as well as vetcraft officials will be asked to explore the possibilities of the new craft for former soldiers.

IS MADE DIRECTOR

TORONTO, Feb. 5.—Mr. Alexander Fasken was elected to the directorate of the Toronto General Trust Corporation at the annual meeting here today.

Some men were discussing their gardens. One remarked that he could not understand why his peas were so yellow that season.

Another replied: "I can tell you how to cure that. Put them on a No. 19 bus. That's the way to Turnham Green."

The jest having a great success, the victim of it determined to use it again. The next time he went out he introduced the subject, but when he came to his point he exclaimed: "That's the way to make 'em green."

He could not understand why nobody laughed.

A question frequently asked is whether there is any rule covering the way the Declarer should finesse against an outstanding Queen of his long suit when able to take the finesse in either hand. I will endeavor to answer this question in the various finessing situations in which it may arise.

First, let us assume the Declarer to hold say the A J x x x of a suit in own hand and the K 10 x in Dummy; or, the A J x x in own hand and K 10 x x in Dummy. It should be obvious that, unless the adverse bidding gives some indication as to the probable location of the Queen, it is a pure guess whether to finesse the Ten in Dummy or the Jack in own hand. Thus, there is no rule of any kind covering this situation.

There is, however, a rule if holding say, the A J 9 x x in own hand and K 10 x in Dummy, or, A J 9 x in own hand and K 10 x x in Dummy. In this situation the high intermediate should be led, either the Jack from own hand or Ten from Dummy, to invite a cover by the adversary next to play, should such adversary happen to hold the Queen. If covered, the problem is solved. If not covered, and with no hesitation however slight by the next player, the rule is to go up with the high card in the opposite hand and finesse against the other adversary on the return.

In connection with this play, it should be noted that, should the adversary next to play hesitate when not holding the Queen, such hesitation constitutes an offense against the ethics of the game, the penalty for which, in the Code of Ethics, is the ostracism of the offender provided deliberately done to deceive.

Another question frequently asked is, whether with nine cards of a suit between the two hands with the Queen missing, the Declarer should finesse, if able, or lay down the Ace and King. Again, the answer is, there is no hard and fast rule to cover this situation. Despite popular opinion to the contrary, the probabilities as to the split of the outstanding four cards of the suit are more in favor of a 3-1 split than a 2-2. Consequently, if holding say A K J x x in one hand and x x x x in the other, or A K J x x x in one hand and x x x in the other, the rule is to lay down the Ace (or King) first on the chance of either dropping the Queen or receiving some information that will aid in deciding whether or not to finesse on the second round or suit.

If, however, the distribution of high honors of suit between the two hands of Declarer and Dummy admit of taking the finesse but one way, such as A J x x x in own hand and K x x x x in Dummy, then the Declarer must perforce lead a small card from own hand to the King and finesse, or not, on the return of the Ace-Jack. While not a positive rule, the one I personally follow is to go up with the Ace on the second round if my short suits in own hand and Dummy are doubletons, and to finesse, if singletons; always provided I receive no indication from the bidding, or from the play to the first lead, to counsel the reverse of such procedure.

The bidding frequently provides a fairly safe indication as to the probable location of a missing Queen, particularly so when holding nine cards of a suit between the two hands. Take, for example, the Heart holding of North and South in the above deal (North, K J 10 8 and South, A 6 4 3 2) in conjunction with the bidding by West of both Spades and Diamonds. While not positive, it is fairly safe to assume that the Queen of Hearts, if it does not drop on the lead of a small Heart to the King in Dummy, is held by East. Consequently, the Jack return, if not covered by East should as a rule be permitted to run.

In the Duplicate Contract game in which the above deal arose, several North and South pairs were driven to five Hearts. In two of such instances the South player failed to make such contract because of the erroneous belief that, with nine Hearts between the two hands, there is a hard and fast rule to the effect that the outstanding four cards will be split 2-2, and therefore, if holding the Ace and King, not to finesse. As a matter of fact, the bidding of two suits by West practically makes the finesse against the Queen obligatory in the above instance.

SALIENT POINTS OF THE BIDDING

Auction and Contract: South opens the bidding with one Heart; West overcalls with one Spade. North assists to two Hearts, and East to two Spades. Up to this point, the assisting valuations of both North and East are based upon the showing of but one suit, for which they both hold but one assist.

South now shows his second suit by bidding three Clubs, and West, his second suit, by bidding three Diamonds. The showing by South and West of two suits necessitates the reconstruction by North and East of their supporting values. North now holds three assists for South, and East, two assists. Consequently North gives his second assist by bidding three Hearts, and East his second and final assist by bidding three Spades. South and West passing, North bids four Hearts, which East passes. South also passing, West bids four Spades and North five Hearts, giving the final assist.

THE PLAY

West opens the Queen of Spades. The Dummy going down, South wins with the King in own hand and leads the Two of Hearts to the King in Dummy. Following this, he leads the Jack of Hearts, which East refusing to cover, South lets run. A third Heart lead captures East's Queen. So played, nothing remains but to drive out the Ace of Clubs to fulfil the contract of five Hearts.

IT IS NOT OFTEN THAT WE CAN OFFER AT THE PRICE QUOTED BELOW SUCH A BEAUTIFUL HOME AS THIS ON THE CHOICEST PART OF ROCKLAND AVENUE WITH MAGNIFICENT VIEWS OVER CITY, SEA AND MOUNTAINS

THIS may well be described as one of the real homes of Victoria, and, while standing on very high ground, yet is wonderfully sheltered in many respects.

GROUND FLOOR — Beautiful entrance hall with large open fireplace in cosy corner nook; extra large drawing-room, designed somewhat after the French style; comfortable dining-room; very cosy den; kitchen, pantry, scullery, Chinaman's room and usual offices.

UPSTAIRS—Seven good bedrooms (all with large windows), five of which are facing south; two bathrooms; linen closets, etc.

The entrance hall, large landing upstairs, and main rooms have exceptionally good hardwood floors, and a further feature is a vacuum cleaner system which draws all dust and dirt directly to a receptacle in the basement. The house has a large veranda running along the front; hot water heating throughout, many open fireplaces, and is most conveniently planned. There are two garages and the garden is well laid out with velvety lawns, fruit trees (peach, fig, etc.), lovely flowers and many large shade trees.

To anyone desiring a real home, with that something indefinable which we commonly speak of as "atmosphere," we can unhesitatingly recommend this property. The cost to the present owner was $25,000, but, for private reasons, and to make a quick sale, he has instructed us to cut the price to $15,000, at which figure we consider it an absolute gift.

TERMS can be arranged. Phone for appointment to view.

BREAKFAST IS COOKED, BUT MAN MISSING

Mystery Surrounds Disappearance of Mr. John Ramsay, Since Monday Morning

SEARCH HAS BEEN FRUITLESS

CUMBERLAND, Feb. 5. — The members of the Cumberland volunteer fire department were summoned together tonight about 5 o'clock by the sounding of the fire siren, for the purpose of organizing parties to search for Mr. John Ramsay, who has been missing since Monday morning.

The missing man spent Sunday with his relatives at Minto, and was driven to his shack in the evening. On Monday morning he got up, lit his fire and cooked breakfast. The team of horses which he was looking after for Mr. W. Hutton had been watered and fed, and since then all trace of him has been lost. On searching his shack it was discovered that his breakfast had been cooked, and left on the table untouched.

Mr. Hutton, brother-in-law of the missing man, hunted around for him on Monday and Tuesday, and failing to find any trace of him called for assistance.

The missing man was well known throughout the district and fears for his safety are felt in many quarters. It is reported that he has been worrying ever since his nephew, William Hutton, Jr., was killed last Summer in an automobile accident.

Duncan United Church Elects Board of Elders

DUNCAN, Feb. 5.—The annual meeting of the United Church congregation was held in the church on Thursday evening. Dr. E. L. Garner presided. Mr. P. R. Dobson, church treasurer, presented the financial statement.

Mrs. Robert Mann, president, and Mrs. P. R. Dobson, treasurer, reported for the Women's Missionary Society. Their allocation had been exceeded by $30. Miss Winnie Hargin and Mrs. Dobson gave an encouraging report of the work of the Mission Band. Mrs. T. C. Robson, president, and Mrs. A. J. Brownsey, treasurer, reported an active year in the Women's Association, with receipts of over $1,000. Mr. R. A. Thorpe, superintendent, spoke of the increase in attendance at the Sunday school, added accommodation being greatly needed, especially for the primary department, which numbered seventy-five.

The report of the nominating committee named by the official board was accepted and the following elected elders for a two-year term: Messrs. James Highsted, J. H. Smith, John Baker, A. J. Brownsey and G. Bowyer. To the board of stewards: Messrs. Dobson, Kelly, A. R. Mann, W. R. Hargin, Henderson, E. B. Nash, J. Stephens, M. Smith, W. Flett and E. W. Lee.

ANNUAL ESTIMATES ARE APPROVED

Consolidated School Board Sets Figure at $22,800, Practically Identical With 1929

DUNCAN, Feb. 5.—The ultimatum from the city council that the school trustees immediately place casualty insurance covering children conveyed to and from the Duncan schools by bus, and that steps be taken to have the Duncan-North Cowichan School Act amended to have the city relieved of any legal liability in connection with accidents to school buses, was considered by the Consolidated School Board last night. It was decided to place the insurance asked for, and $1,000 was placed in the estimates for this purpose, and Trustees Thorpe and Stanhope were appointed a committee to confer with delegates appointed by the city and municipal councils to consider the matter of amendments to the school act.

The estimates for the year were approved. These call for an expenditure of $22,800, almost the exact amount expended last year, which was $22,799.51. The increase in transportation costs and teachers' salaries was offset by the fact that one of the school loan by-laws matured last year, and no further provision for interest and sinking fund is required in this connection.

An application was received from the Parent-Teacher Association for assistance towards the establishment of night classes in connection with the establishment of a junior orchestra in Duncan. It was claimed that the Department of Education would contribute three-fifths of the teacher's salary. Mr. B. Ryall was named as the proposed instructor. The matter was left in the hands of the school management committee.

Cowichan Health Centre Donates Sum to Solarium

DUNCAN, Feb. 5.—The members of Cowichan health centre committee paid silent tribute to the memory of Lieutenant-Colonel Moss, husband of their president, Mrs. Moss, O.B.E., at their meeting on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Maitland-Dougall, vice-president, presided.

The returns from the membership drive are $526.25.

Miss A. Roberts, who recently arrived from England to serve in public health work in the Peace River District, has been temporarily appointed to the nursing staff, replacing Miss McKechnie, who resigned in December. The committee and nursing staff are expressing their sympathy with Mrs. Moss by sending a cheque to the Queen Alexandra Solarium, Mill Bay, to be used as designated by Mrs. Moss, in memory of Lieutenant-Colonel Moss.

Members present were Mesdames T. Pitt, R. C. Macgregor, Bradley, Brettingham, Whidden, Highsted, Solly, Leather, George Owens, F. G. Christmas, Robson, Miss Foster and Miss Mitchell.

Residence Threatened

COWICHAN BAY, Feb. 5.—The residence of Rev. W. E. Cockshott had a narrow escape on Sunday night, owing to a bad chimney fire. Prompt and willing assistance, given by the men at the booming camp, in time got the fire under control.

SOOKE, Feb. 5.—The Sooke Athletic Association will hold its regular monthly meeting in Charters Hall on Thursday at 8 o'clock.

SERIOUS ROAD DAMAGE OCCURS

PORT ALBERNI SUFFERS FROM SEVERE RAINSTORM, WASHING OUT ROADWAYS

Rivulets Formed on Steep Streets When Storm Water Cannot Move Quickly

PORT ALBERNI, Feb. 5.—Yesterday morning and early afternoon this city was visited by a miniature cloudburst, which by the time it had ceased had caused such damage that it will cost several thousand dollars properly to repair. The culverts and sewers were unable to carry the water away and the streets became so flooded that they resembled rivers.

The upper end of Kingsway has been closed, as the street is impassable. A large culvert across the road was torn up and thrown out of place, while the upper end of First Avenue was almost entirely washed out, there being ruts two feet deep and two to three feet wide. Mar Street appears to have been undermined and it will be a considerable time before it can be repaired. The lower end of Argyle Street was badly damaged, and although an emergency gang of men worked hard to control the water a great part of the surface was washed away. Athol Street hill suffered, and has some very dangerous ruts.

At one time it became so serious that powder was used to release the water which had been dammed up near the city hall. According to ex-Alderman Bird a great deal of the damage could have been averted if the city had kept the open drains clear of bushes and overgrown grass.

During the last public meeting before the municipal elections, he warned the citizens, that unless these drains were attended to they would become flooded during the rainy season and cause damage to the roads.

SICKNESS HALTS SOCCER FIXTURE

Sickness in the Hudson's Bay camp and the poor condition of the playing field resulted in the cancellation of yesterday's Wednesday League soccer fixture between the Hudson's Bay and the Navy.

SUPPORTING CARD FOR SCOTT-SHARKEY MIX AT MIAMI OUT

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—The supporting card for Jack Sharkey's heavyweight match with Phil Scott in Miami, Florida, February 27, has been announced at Madison Square Garden.

In accordance with general forecasts, Johnny Risko, the Cleveland baker boy, will meet Victorio Campolo, husky Argentine, in the ten-round semi-final.

Another ten-round match, previously announced, brings together Tommy Loughran, former light-heavyweight champion, and Pierre Charles, of Belgium. The first ten-rounder pairs Jimmy Maloney, of Boston, and Moisa Bouquillon, French heavyweight. George Cook, British veteran, opens the card in a six-round bout with Paul Stanchi, of the Argentine.

BEEF PRICE RAISED

VERNON AERO CLUB

VERNON—The formation of an aero club here was completed on Wednesday, when a public meeting held, and officers elected. Word has been received from Ottawa that the estimates for two Gypsy Moth planes for Vernon have been passed and that the machines will be available as soon as the club is ready to take the air.

DEATH OF PIONEER

KOOTENAY POULTRY

Seek Inspiration Outside Country

MONTREAL, Que., Feb. 1.—Horizons are broadening in French literature and young writers are trying to get beyond national confines in their writings, said Prof. Andre Morizo, Harvard University, speaking before the Alliance Francais here. The younger generation of French writers are endeavoring to travel beyond the borders of the country, in fact to do away altogether with geographical and literary frontiers.

Things not French seemed in favor in France, if the literature told the true story, Dr. Morize said. Perhaps the last war helped, for fast and easy transportation developed a desire to go abroad and national frontiers seemed not so impressive. The French soul in its restlessness wanted to wander away from itself, he said. In the days of Corneillo, Racion and Moliere, the writers were satisfied with national inspiration, but from then on, foreign influences began to make themselves felt in many ways. Now this has resulted in wide interests, and the public wanted translations of contemporary writers.

Some had turned to materialistic America, others to Russia and still others again to the Orient, each civilization being praised by the writers as the best available world at present, Prof. Morizo said.

When Boston, England, was recently flooded, drinking water had to be taken there by train from Willoughby, twenty miles away, and one bucketful was delivered to each house daily.

MAKE RESEARCH IN ACOUSTICS

(Special to The Colonist. Copyright, 1930)

TORONTO, Jan. 25.—Widespread and false ideas on the matter of building acoustics have recently been receiving concentrated attention in Canadian construction circles, and there are clear indications that the solution of noise nuisance is giving rise to the new science of architectural acoustics and the treating of such structures as public halls, theatres, brokers' and office buildings, already erected or contemplated.

Specific research has been undertaken by two Canadian professors, Professor G. R. Anderson, of the University of Toronto, and Professor H. E. Reilly, of McGill University, Montreal. At a convention of building authorities in Hamilton a few days ago Professor Reilly outlined the general problem and methods of solution.

SOME WEIRD TRICKS

Professor Reilly told of the weird tricks of sound waves in some theatres and concert halls. He had just completed practical experiments in more than a dozen such institutions in Montreal. In one case, sounds from the stage were quite inaudible in one gallery seat, but in another, only three feet away, they were quite clear. An orchestra leader was conducting a symphony with a violin. Due to the construction of the hall, his men were hearing the reflected sound only which, naturally, was slightly behind his actual playing and they were following it. Curved surfaces, as well as the absorbing reflecting qualities of the materials used, all enter into acoustic problems.

Prof. R. G. Anderson, who has carried on acoustic research in Toronto, also mentioned the erroneous notions which still persist.

"One of the most ancient superstitions," he wrote, "is that of stringing wires across a building to correct defective acoustics. This idea has spread all over Europe and America, and in spite of 100 per cent failure, is still to be found in service."

He told, from his own experience, of taking down half a mile of useless wire from a Canadian court house near Toronto and mentioned a church in Boston where five miles of it had been removed.

It may be a leak in the tube of the windshield wiper that is causing the engine to stall.

JUST LIKE A WOMAN

A rosy-cheeked Irish girl stepped into the village postoffice and asked, "Anything for the Dempseys?" "No, there is not." "Anything for Jane Dempsey?" "Nothing." "Anything for Tom Dempsey?" "No." "Anything for John Dempsey?" "No, not a bit!" "Anything for Terry Dempsey?" "No; nor for Pat Dempsey, nor Denis Dempsey, nor Peter Dempsey, nor Paul Dempsey, nor for any Dempsey dead, living, native or foreign, civilized or uncivilized, savage or barbarous, male or female, black or white, naturalized or otherwise, soldier or citizen! No, there is positively nothing for any of the Dempseys!" The girl looked at the postmaster in astonishment. "Please," she said, "will you see if there is anything for Bridget Dempsey?"

How to Keep Fit at "Fifty"

No Need Now to Grow Old Simply Through Passing Years. How to Make a Test That Tells

Men and women in this modern age are just as old as their Nerve Force—no older—no younger. You may be old at thirty, or young at fifty or sixty.

Old age and the disease that old age invites stalks in the path of every person past forty, who permits Nerve Force to run low. They are ready victims of Paralysis, Apoplexy, Rheumatism, Kidney and Bladder Trouble, Sciatica and many other dangerous ailments.

Every leading druggist in this city now offers, under binding guarantee, a new scientific preparation called Erbac (double strength). Its action is simply on the nerve cells. Its purpose is to build up youthful age-resisting nerve force and power. It's not a mere nerve stimulant that lashes tired nerves to action, nor a sedative to lull overwrought nerves to temporary rest. It brings no sixty-minute change. You must use Erbac daily for twenty days to expect results. But if you want nerves of steel, the power of youth, and are willing to pay at the rate of ten cents a day for twenty days, and have the courage to make the test, your own druggist will supply you with a twenty days' test of Erbac (double strength) on this guarantee. Use it for twenty days, and then if you do not feel at least ten years younger, and if your ability and endurance have not increased at least 100 per cent, your money will be refunded.

Erbac (double strength) is especially designed for folks past forty. If you have reached that age and want results, make this test without delay.

How to Stop Food Fermentation

In Stomach and Avoid Sourness and Indigestion

It is gas, formed by fermenting food, that after meals bloats your stomach, causing sourness, heartburn, dullness, uncomfortable fullness and pains of indigestion. Drugs, stomach tonics and artificial digestants like pepsin fail to give satisfactory relief because they have little or no effect on the stomach acids that have been proved to be the real cause of sassy stomach and practically all indigestion. Instead, an absolutely pure antacid or neutralizing agent should be used after meals to neutralize this dangerous acid in the stomach, and undoubtedly nothing could be better or safer for the purpose than pure Bisurated Magnesia. This you can obtain from any good drug store in either powder or tablets, and in most cases a teaspoonful of the powder, or two tablets taken with a little water after meals will be sufficient to instantly neutralize excessive acidity of the stomach, stop and prevent premature sourings and fermentation of the food and permit a normal, painless digestion of whatever you have eaten. Try this simple prescription and be delighted with your entire freedom from indigestion. (Advt.)

Stop That COLD!

Ten-Minute Relief!

I found it impossible to sleep, so bad was my catarrh. Nose and throat were plugged up with offensive discharges. I had a bad cough, sneezed continually, and had headaches. I was soon rid of my trouble when I used Catarrhozone. Today I am well." Daniel Smith, Hackett's P.O. Get Catarrhozone from your druggist today—it's needed in every home. Two months' treatment, $1; smaller size, 50c. Catarrhozone is guaranteed. (Advt.)

HUGE BRICKS CAN BE MADE

Material is Vitreous Clay Substance, Produced in Laboratory Successfully

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Feb. 2.—Bricks so enormous that two of them would make the wall of a small bungalow were forecast recently in the announcement of discovery of a new building material at Pennsylvania State College.

The announcement says that with this new material bricks may be made twenty feet long, five feet wide and six to eight inches thick. Their colors are expected to be red or buff. The surface of the small models which have been made in the laboratory resembles that of paving bricks.

The material is a vitreous clay substance produced by Prof. Joseph B. Shaw and Myril C. Shaw, of the ceramics department. Prof. Shaw is a leading scientist in ceramics. The financial backing for this research was supplied by United States Senator W. B. Pine, of Oklahoma, and the objective was to discover a new road-paving substance.

Roads harder than concrete, cheaper than macadam and easier to build than either of them are promised in the new material. The paving material may be manufactured anywhere that deposits of clay or shale are found. The material weighs about 100 pounds per cubic foot. No name has yet been chosen for it.

INCURABLE

A Lancashire man had a son who was to go to the university, and he wanted him to speak perfect English. One day he listened to a lawyer making a speech, and his language was the purest he had ever heard.

"Will you teach my son to talk like thee?" he asked. He offered a good sum for this service, and the barrister agreed.

"On one condition," he said, "that you do not see your son for twelve months. He must not hear a word of Lancashire dialect for that period."

The twelve months passed, and the man hurried south with glee to see his son. He was ushered into the library of the barrister's house, where he met the lawyer himself.

"Well, and how is my son?" he asked; to which the lawyer replied:

LATIN AMERICAN EMBASSIES GROW

Twenty Diplomatic Missions Represent Peoples of Central and South America

WASHINGTON, D.C., Feb. 5.—The chief topic in diplomatic circles these days is that Latin America will soon come into its own in Washington.

And it is no secret that the silk-hatted gentlemen from the Southern Hemisphere are elated. For they are on the threshold of seniority in the capital of the United States—a thing long coveted.

Within a few weeks two Latin American ambassadors—Dr. Herman Velarde, of Peru, and Don Manuel C. Tellez, of Mexico—are to assume the deanship of the diplomatic corps in Washington in rapid succession. With the retirement of Sir Esme Howard, of Great Britain, Ambassador Velarde becomes dean. He will hold it only a short while, then Ambassador Tellez will take it over.

Latin America is represented in Washington by twenty diplomatic missions. Of late there has been a decided trend toward expansion of these mission and investment by the Governments in choice bits of Washington real estate. In fact, some of these embassies and legations are the show places of the capital.

Also the numerical increase in secretaries, attaches and their families has given Washington society the unmistakable gay note of Southern capitals.
